Plane Crash In Pa. Kills 25

M'Elroy Quits; Gates New Defense Chief

Bomber Alert Slated To Offset "Missile Gap"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neil H. McElroy, the first space age secretary of defense, resigned Tuesday and Philadelphia banker Thomas Sovereign Gates Jr. was promoted to the top Pentagon post.

The tall, athletic-looking McElroy is returning to the soap business after 26 months at the helm of the Defense Department—a period which saw changes in military concepts more drastic than in any comparable period of U.S. history.

In one of his last official acts, McElroy announced the administration will ask Congress next January for money to keep B52 long-range bombers aloft on an increased alert when the military chiefs determine the Soviet Union has a substantial lead in intercontinental ballistic missiles.

U. S. Lags In Big Missiles

At a farewell news conference, McElroy conceded the United States will trail the Soviets in big missiles for the next three years.

Despite this, he spoke confidently of American capability to deliver nuclear destruction against any would-be aggressor.

As of today, he said, the Soviet Union and the United States have about the same number of long-range missiles—a number he described as quite small on both sides.

"It is our belief that we are prepared for either nuclear or nonatomic limited war," he declared.

Meeting with newsmen a few hours after the White House announced his resignation, McElroy said he planned to end his government task during the evening and witness the swearing in of Gates Wednesday at a ceremony in the executive mansion.

Gates, an investment banker in private life, recently has been serving as deputy secretary after a previous stint as secretary of the Navy.

Military Budget Set

He moves into the defense chief's job a little more than a month before President Eisenhower's new military budget goes to Congress for an expected buffeting from Democrats who want to spend more on missiles and other weapons.

McElroy's resignation—which is effective immediately — came as no surprise. He indicated months ago he would step out after the military budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 had been hammered into shape. That job was pretty well finished late last month, and the decision—reached at meetings with Eisenhower—reportedly was to hold military spending at about the 41-billion-dollar rate of this year.

Ike And Russia's Kuznetsov Hail 14-Article Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Russia and 10 other nations Tuesday signed a historic treaty declaring that the vast frozen continent of Antarctica "shall be used for peaceful purposes only."

President Eisenhower hailed the pact as a "significant advance toward the goal of a peaceful world with justice." He said it should serve as an "inspiring example of what can be accomplished by international cooperation."

Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kuznetsov, who signed the treaty for Russia, said it reflects a "definite improvement" in the international situation and "will serve the main objective now facing mankind . . . to preserve and strengthen peace."

Limited Nuclear Test Ban

The 14-article treaty, the first Russia has signed with this and other western nations, except for the Austrian peace treaty, since the outbreak of the cold war, is designed to keep the south polar icecap free of military bases and open to peaceful and cooperative scientific exploration.

It includes a limited nuclear test ban—the first ever agreed to by the United States, Russia and Britain, the three major nuclear powers. The document bans all nuclear weapons testing or explosions in Antarctica except for such peaceful purposes as generating electricity or melting ice for water.

Claims Is Status Quo

The treaty makes no attempt to settle the many conflicting territorial claims in Antarctica, an area five million square miles equal to the size of the United States and Europe combined. It freezes the claims in status quo, neither rejecting them nor recognizing them. However, no new claims can be made during the life of the treaty.

In addition to the United States and Russia, the nations signing the treaty included Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

The treaty must be ratified by the U.S. Senate and the parliamentary bodies or governments of the 11 other nations.

Body Of Crash Victim Removed

Firemen remove the body of one of the victims from the still-smouldering wreckage of the Allegheny Airlines plane which crashed against a mountainside within a few miles of the Williamsport-Montoursville, Pa., airport yesterday. Twenty-five of the 26 persons aboard were killed in the crash.

Airliner Rams Peak In Snow; One Survives

Twin-Engine Craft Plunges In Storm Near Williamsport

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Allegheny Airlines increased the death toll to 25 in the crash of its twin-engine airliner on a 1,400-foot mountain in a snowstorm Tuesday.

Donald W. Tygert, 26, co-pilot of Webster, N. Y., boarded the plane in Philadelphia but was not on its manifest, David Miller, vice president of the airlines, said in nearby Williamsport.

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A twin-engine airliner rammed a 1,400-foot mountain Tuesday after circling away during an instrument landing in a snowstorm. Twenty-four of the 25 aboard were killed.

Louis Matarazzo of Springfield, Pa., a passenger, was the lone survivor on the Allegheny Airlines flight.

"Thank God, father, you're here," he shouted to a Catholic priest, the Rev. Francis P. Corcoran, as the rescue party worked its way toward him through the dense undergrowth on Bald Eagle Mountain.

Two others were found alive but unconscious. They died during the 1½-hour descent.

Matarazzo, badly burned, was reported in serious condition at a hospital.

The plane, a Martin Executive-type carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three, was en route to Cleveland from Philadelphia. It was cleared for a landing at the Williamsport - Montoursville airport at 9:41 a.m. A few minutes later it came down through swirling snow and mist.

Salesman Hears Crash

Tom Schadt, a salesman at a plant nearby, said the plane circled away as if planning another approach and then headed directly toward the mountains.

"I heard the pilot gun his motors," Schadt said. "A second or two later there was a gigantic crash."

The plane hit the mountain about midway from the top.

The local control tower said the pilot had been in contact with it and "this definitely was an instrument landing," but did not elaborate. An airlines spokesman in Washington said the pilot apparently wanted to make a new and better approach after breaking through the overcast above the airport.

Snow swept into this central Pennsylvania area during the night and there was about an inch on the ground at the time of the crash.

Fred Gettys, New Cumberland, Pa., and W. T. Derry, Philadelphia, were found unconscious in the wreckage but died before they could be brought to a hospital.

Tail Section Intact

The plane cut a wide swath through the trees. The wreckage was found on a precipitous 45-degree slope. The front half looked as if blows from a giant sledge-hammer had pushed it in. The front also burned but, oddly, the tail section was almost undamaged.

Matarazzo and the others had to be first strapped to litters and then lowered by rope to a nearby railroad train set up as an emergency base.

The crash was the 10th involving United States commercial air liners this year. The 24 killed here raised the total in such accidents to 286 in 1959.

An Air Force helicopter rescue team first spotted the wreckage, about midway up Bald Eagle Mountain's rugged terrain.

"It's a complete charred wreckage," the pilot radioed, "except for the tail section, which is intact."

Allegheny Airlines in the last two years has won national awards for safe operations. It had carried passengers since 1949 without a fatal accident.

Dockers, Shippers Agree On Contract

Possible Renewal Of Strike Averted

NEW YORK (UPI)—East and Gulf Coast Longshoremen and shippers reached a contract agreement Tuesday night, averting a possible resumption of a dock strike that had been halted by a Taft-Hartley injunction.

The agreement, which affects 70,000 dockers, was reached in a "memo of understanding" signed by the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL-CIO) and the New York Shipping Association, representing 170 firms.

The pact calls for a 41-cent an hour boost in a three-year contract.

The major issue of the strike—automation—will be submitted to arbitration if 10 additional days of negotiating does not bear any fruit.

The union leaders must submit the proposal to the members for ratification. They expected the pact would be approved by Dec. 10.

Recently Admitted to AFL-CIO

The Taft Hartley injunction was scheduled to expire Dec. 27, when it would have been legal for the union to resume the strike.

The ILA, which recently was admitted to the AFL-CIO after being kicked out of organized labor on corruption charges, called a strike after its present contract expired Sept. 30. President Eisenhower put the Taft-Hartley injunctive process into operation Oct. 6, saying the nation's health and welfare demanded such a move. On Oct. 8 an injunction halting the strike for an 80-day cooling-off period was issued.

The dock injunction was the first of two sought by the President in October. Later he obtained an injunction halting the record steel strike. That injunction still is in effect.

The dock strike was called after the ILA and the shippers at first agreed to a contract extension. But Southern shippers would not agree to retroactive pay when a settlement was reached, and thus the extension was not granted.

The terms of the contract call for a 12-cent wage increase the first year to bring the basic Longshoremen's wages to $2.92 an hour. The dockers would get an additional five cents an hour in wages the second year and five more cents the third year.

Britain, UAR Bury Hatchet

LONDON (UPI) — Britain and the United Arab Republic announced the resumption of diplomatic relations Tuesday—a little more than three years after the Suez expedition that made them bitter enemies and nearly touched off a new world war.

A joint statement released in London and Cairo said the two governments would exchange only charge d'affaires for the time being. Appointment of full-fledged ambassadors was expected later, perhaps late next year or early in 1961.

The decision to resume diplomatic ties followed prolonged behind - the - scenes negotiations in Cairo and at United Nations headquarters in New York.

Girl Turns Thief To Buy Trousseau

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Like any 17-year-old girl, Donna Jean Dresskell dreamed of a lavish wedding trousseau. But unlike others, police said, she planned to buy hers with burglaries.

The brown-haired, hazel - eyed high school junior was seized Monday night. Three retired policemen laid a trap for her in a home in her neighborhood. She overturned a metal pitcher and broke a glass in the dark bedroom.

"We didn't know at the time it was a girl," said one, "but it was a noisy burglar.

Miss Dresskell was jailed without bail in connection with three burglaries. Detective William Jackson said $1,000 worth of jewelry was recovered from her home nearby, where she lives with her parents.

Jackson quoted the girl as saying she had wedding clothes on order for her impending marriage to a Miami soldier—not identified—who is stationed at Ft. Jackson, S.C. Money from the burglaries was intended to pay for the layaway purchases.

Daring Pair Stages $90,000 Gem Theft

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Two men, one wearing a policeman's uniform, bluffed their way into a jeweler's private office and robbed him of an estimated $90,000 worth of diamonds late Tuesday.

Jeweler Mannie Topper, 53, said he and his wife, Sophie, 49, were alone in their store on the 12th floor of the Chemical Building in down St. Louis when the two men entered.

The man in police uniform told them he was investigating the theft of Topper's car six weeks ago, Topper said. Topper let the men into his private office.

Once inside, he said, the man in plainclothes pulled a revolver and the bandit in uniform began scooping up the gems.

Topper said the largest of the stolen diamonds was 7¾ carats and the rest were one or two carat stones. The amount of diamonds taken was not revealed.

American Sobs At Cuban Trial For Conspiracy

HAVANA (AP) — Stretcher-bearers carried a weeping American ex-associate of Fidel Castro before a military tribunal late Tuesday to defend himself against a possible death sentence. He is accused of counter - revolutionary activity.

Rafael del Pino, 33, of Miami, Fla., a Cuban-born naturalized U.S. citizen wounded by police bullets in his capture last July, went on trial with Luciano Linera as Gastell, who was a Havana policeman during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

The military prosecutor has demanded death for both defendants.

Flat on the stretcher, Del Pino broke down and cried when he was borne into the courtroom in La Cabana Fortress.

But he told the tribunal: "These tears are the tears of a man, not a coward. I am not afraid to die. I cry because they refused (in prison) to let me see my mother."

The Havana hearing is the second in the trials by military tribunals that were revived this week after a four-month halt. Prime Minister Fidel Castro called in a speech at Santiago Monday night for the firing squad for counter-revolutionaries.

Two other Americans and 37 Cuban codefendants waited in Pinar del Rio for the verdicts, expected Wednesday, of the first tribunal to swing into action against persons accused of conspiring to overthrow Castro's regime.

The prosecution there demanded execution of Frank Austin Young, 38, an Indianapolis-born commercial pilot from Miami, Fla., and Fernando Pruno Bertot, 24, a Cuban who once studied at Columbia University, New York, as leaders of an antigovernment band in west Cuba's hills. The demand drew a defense warning of repercussions in the United States.

Thirty-year prison terms were asked for Peter John Lambton, 24, a naturalized American from Nassau, Bahamas, and 12 of the Cubans.

The Pinar del Rio tribunal announced it will study the testimony 24 hours before returning the verdicts. Both prosecution and defense can appeal.

Camera-Carrying Thor Nose Cone Lost In Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —A nose cone carrying a camera to film color pictures of the earth from 300 miles in the sky plunged back into the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday and was lost.

The Air Force suddenly called off a search and recovery effort 90 minutes after the nose cone was hurled upward on an intermediate range Thor missile at noon Tuesday. It was believed that a radio beacon installed in the cone failed.

The intended impact area was some 1,700 miles down the Atlantic Missile Range. The film, if recovered, would have been rushed by plane to a processing station in this first color-filming attempt, part of a weather reconnaissance test series.

USW, Industry Face Ike Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials passed the word Tuesday that President Eisenhower is getting ready to blast both union and management for not settling their steel industry dispute.

Eisenhower was said to be choosing stronger words than he has used before, in his radio-television speech to the nation Thursday night.

This was reported as a new bargaining session called by the government got off here during the afternoon on a sour note.

The Steelworkers Union president, David J. McDonald, accused the industry of entering the talks in bad faith.

He objected to a pamphlet mailed by U.S. Steel Corp. to employes entitled "last offer for strike settlement."

The half-million Steelworkers, back to work now under a Taft-Hartley Act injunction after a 116-day strike, will be free to walk out again on Jan. 26 when the injunction expires.

Khrush Boasts Anew Of Soviet Atom Rockets

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted again Tuesday of enough nuclear rockets to raze all his foes, and declared world disarmament must be solved along with the Berlin question.

The Soviet leader spoke at the seventh congress of the Hungarian Communist party, the first since the 1956 revolution that overthrew Communist rule only to be crushed by Soviet tanks.

Declaring agreement on an East-West summit meeting has practically been reached, Khrushchev said he agrees with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that disarmament is the first order of business at such a meeting.

The Soviet Union, he said, wants universal disarmament with "the most comprehensive and profound control" and is willing to destroy a whole stockpile of rockets with nuclear warheads which he declared could "raze to the ground all our potential enemies."

"But in order to have confidence on both sides, we must settle the issue of West Berlin," he went on.

BB Helping Out Refugee Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Brigitte Bardot, the sexy French film actress, is going to help out with World Refugee Year.

A U.N. announcement Tuesday night said the proceeds from premier performances of her new picture, "Babette Goes to War," will be turned over to the World Refugee Year program.

World Refugee Year is designed to spotlight attention on unsolved refugee problems.

Bonn, France Agree On Berlin Approach

PARIS (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French leaders agreed Tuesday Berlin should be discussed in the framework of an all-German settlement at the coming East-West summit meeting.

French and West German spokesmen disclosed the agreement that the future of Western-garrisoned West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, should not be dealt with as an isolated issue.

The all-German approach is that used—in vain—by the West in early sessions of the Big Four foreign ministers conference at Geneva last summer. A later effort to reach a temporary solution there on Berlin alone also bogged down.

Skinny, Patuxent Fugitive Sought

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — Police were looking Tuesday for a skinny, hungry fugitive from the Patuxent Institution.

Harris Brown, the 19-year-old, weighed only 124 pounds when he was sent to Patuxent for larceny. Col. W. J. Keish, superintendent, figured Brown must have trained down for his escape by dieting.

Keish said Brown squeezed through a six-inch space between bars on his cell to get out.

"That's the only way he could have done it," Keish said. "You've got to see it to believe it."

Brown originally was from Robertsdale, Pa., and so police in the neighboring state were asked to keep a sharp eye out for the little fugitive. He is only 5 feet, 7 inches tall.

Grandma, 80, Talks Thief Out Of Taking Her Money

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. George M. Purcell, 80-year-old great grandmother and operator of a suburban grocery and general merchandise store, met her first robber Monday night. She talked him out of taking her money.

"It was the first gun barrel I ever looked down in more than 50 years in this store," said Mrs. Purcell, a gray-haired woman who has 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

The Negro robber, about 30, came into the store and asked Mrs. Ottie Jackson for a carton of cigarets. Mrs. Jackson, 79, and an occasional helper at the store, asked the price.

"I told her $2.75," Mrs. Purcell said, "and came around the counter."

About that time, the robber pulled the gun from a lunch pail he was carrying and pointed it at the two women. He demanded money.

"I told him he wouldn't do us —two little old women—like that," Mrs. Purcell said. "I just kept talking and looking down that gun barrel. I told him I needed the money worse than he did and that I barely made enough to pay my taxes.

"I finally asked him what he would settle for. He said he would settle for the cigarets. He took the carton of cigarets and left."

$21.60 A Pound

Girl's Kiss Boosts Price Of Grand Champion Steer

CHICAGO (UPI)—A farm girl's kiss boosted the price for the nation's grand champion steer by $618 Tuesday.

The kiss from the lips of Darlene Hansen, 21, of Le Mars, Iowa, also insured a few extra acres for her sweetheart to farm after they're married next spring.

Darlene's kisses helped spur the auction bidding for Black Jewel, a 1,035 - pound Aberdeen Angus and grand champion of this year's International Live Stock Exposition, the nation's biggest farm show.

Black Jewel went for $22.356, or $21.60 a pound, to the Howard Johnson restaurant chain. The money, the third highest sum ever paid for a grand champion, will be shared by two Remsen, Iowa, brothers, Roy and Wayne Maass.

The price might have stayed at $21,738, or even lower if it hadn't been for the kisses of Darlene, who is Roy Maass's financee.

Darlene's kisses were bestowed upon Ellard Pfaelzer, member of the meat suppliers' firm representing the restaurant chain at the auction.

Half way through the bidding in the chilly Chicago stockyards, Pfaelzer pointed to the comely, auburn - haired girl standing beside Black Jewel and announced "If this little girl will kiss me I'll raise it a dollar."

Darlene obliged and the bidding continued until Black Jewel was knocked down to Pfaelzer at a price of $21 a pound. Pfaelzer's generosity, however, was unappeased.

"In honor of the 60th anniversary of the show and for kissing this little girl," Pfaelzer said, "I'm going to pay $21.60 for this fine animal."

U.N. Deadlock Holds Through 49th Ballot

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United Nations General Assembly went through six more ballots Tuesday without approaching a break in the record deadlock between American-supported Turkey and Soviet-backed Poland for a seat on the Security Council.

The voting, which began Oct. 12 and has been held on five days since, reached the 49th ballot with Poland leading 42 to 39. It was the largest number of ballots ever taken on such an issue. A two-thirds vote is necessary for election to the council seat.

Two other Americans and 37 Cuban codefendants waited in Pinar del Rio for the verdicts, expected Wednesday, of the first tribunal to swing into action against persons accused of conspiring to overthrow Castro's regime.

The prosecution there demanded execution of Frank Austin Young, 38, an Indianapolis-born commercial pilot from Miami, Fla., and Fernando Pruno Bertot, 24, a Cuban who once studied at Columbia University, New York, as leaders of an antigovernment band in west Cuba's hills. The demand drew a defense warning of repercussions in the United States.

Thirty-year prison terms were asked for Peter John Lambton, 24, a naturalized American from Nassau, Bahamas, and 12 of the Cubans.

The Pinar del Rio tribunal announced it will study the testimony 24 hours before returning the verdicts. Both prosecution and defense can appeal.

Skinny, Patuxent Fugitive Sought

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — Police were looking Tuesday for a skinny, hungry fugitive from the Patuxent Institution.

Harris Brown, the 19-year-old, weighed only 124 pounds when he was sent to Patuxent for larceny. Col. W. J. Keish, superintendent, figured Brown must have trained down for his escape by dieting.

Keish said Brown squeezed through a six-inch space between bars on his cell to get out.

"That's the only way he could have done it," Keish said. "You've got to see it to believe it."

Brown originally was from Robertsdale, Pa., and so police in the neighboring state were asked to keep a sharp eye out for the little fugitive. He is only 5 feet, 7 inches tall.

Camera-Carrying Thor Nose Cone Lost In Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —A nose cone carrying a camera to film color pictures of the earth from 300 miles in the sky plunged back into the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday and was lost.

The Air Force suddenly called off a search and recovery effort 90 minutes after the nose cone was hurled upward on an intermediate range Thor missile at noon Tuesday. It was believed that a radio beacon installed in the cone failed.

The intended impact area was some 1,700 miles down the Atlantic Missile Range. The film, if recovered, would have been rushed by plane to a processing station in this first color-filming attempt, part of a weather reconnaissance test series.

USW, Industry Face Ike Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials passed the word Tuesday that President Eisenhower is getting ready to blast both union and management for not settling their steel industry dispute.

Eisenhower was said to be choosing stronger words than he has used before, in his radio-television speech to the nation Thursday night.

This was reported as a new bargaining session called by the government got off here during the afternoon on a sour note.

The Steelworkers Union president, David J. McDonald, accused the industry of entering the talks in bad faith.

He objected to a pamphlet mailed by U.S. Steel Corp. to employes entitled "last offer for strike settlement."

The half-million Steelworkers, back to work now under a Taft-Hartley Act injunction after a 116-day strike, will be free to walk out again on Jan. 26 when the injunction expires.

Khrush Boasts Anew Of Soviet Atom Rockets

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted again Tuesday of enough nuclear rockets to raze all his foes, and declared world disarmament must be solved along with the Berlin question.

The Soviet leader spoke at the seventh congress of the Hungarian Communist party, the first since the 1956 revolution that overthrew Communist rule only to be crushed by Soviet tanks.

Declaring agreement on an East-West summit meeting has practically been reached, Khrushchev said he agrees with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that disarmament is the first order of business at such a meeting.

The Soviet Union, he said, wants universal disarmament with "the most comprehensive and profound control" and is willing to destroy a whole stockpile of rockets with nuclear warheads which he declared could "raze to the ground all our potential enemies."

"But in order to have confidence on both sides, we must settle the issue of West Berlin," he went on.

Airliner Rams Peak In Snow; One Survives

Twin-Engine Craft Plunges In Storm Near Williamsport

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Allegheny Airlines increased the death toll to 25 in the crash of its twin-engine airliner on a 1,400-foot mountain in a snowstorm Tuesday.

Donald W. Tygert, 26, co-pilot of Webster, N. Y., boarded the plane in Philadelphia but was not on its manifest, David Miller, vice president of the airlines, said in nearby Williamsport.

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A twin-engine airliner rammed a 1,400-foot mountain Tuesday after circling away during an instrument landing in a snowstorm. Twenty-four of the 25 aboard were killed.

Louis Matarazzo of Springfield, Pa., a passenger, was the lone survivor on the Allegheny Airlines flight.

"Thank God, father, you're here," he shouted to a Catholic priest, the Rev. Francis P. Corcoran, as the rescue party worked its way toward him through the dense undergrowth on Bald Eagle Mountain.

Two others were found alive but unconscious. They died during the 1½-hour descent.

Matarazzo, badly burned, was reported in serious condition at a hospital.

The plane, a Martin Executive-type carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three, was en route to Cleveland from Philadelphia. It was cleared for a landing at the Williamsport - Montoursville airport at 9:41 a.m. A few minutes later it came down through swirling snow and mist.

Salesman Hears Crash

Tom Schadt, a salesman at a plant nearby, said the plane circled away as if planning another approach and then headed directly toward the mountains.

"I heard the pilot gun his motors," Schadt said. "A second or two later there was a gigantic crash."

The plane hit the mountain about midway from the top.

The local control tower said the pilot had been in contact with it and "this definitely was an instrument landing," but did not elaborate. An airlines spokesman in Washington said the pilot apparently wanted to make a new and better approach after breaking through the overcast above the airport.

Snow swept into this central Pennsylvania area during the night and there was about an inch on the ground at the time of the crash.

Fred Gettys, New Cumberland, Pa., and W. T. Derry, Philadelphia, were found unconscious in the wreckage but died before they could be brought to a hospital.

Tail Section Intact

The plane cut a wide swath through the trees. The wreckage was found on a precipitous 45-degree slope. The front half looked as if blows from a giant sledge-hammer had pushed it in. The front also burned but, oddly, the tail section was almost undamaged.

Matarazzo and the others had to be first strapped to litters and then lowered by rope to a nearby railroad train set up as an emergency base.

The crash was the 10th involving United States commercial air liners this year. The 24 killed here raised the total in such accidents to 286 in 1959.

An Air Force helicopter rescue team first spotted the wreckage, about midway up Bald Eagle Mountain's rugged terrain.

"It's a complete charred wreckage," the pilot radioed, "except for the tail section, which is intact."

Allegheny Airlines in the last two years has won national awards for safe operations. It had carried passengers since 1949 without a fatal accident.

U.N. Deadlock Holds Through 49th Ballot

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United Nations General Assembly went through six more ballots Tuesday without approaching a break in the record deadlock between American-supported Turkey and Soviet-backed Poland for a seat on the Security Council.

The voting, which began Oct. 12 and has been held on five days since, reached the 49th ballot with Poland leading 42 to 39. It was the largest number of ballots ever taken on such an issue. A two-thirds vote is necessary for election to the council seat.

$21.60 A Pound

Girl's Kiss Boosts Price Of Grand Champion Steer

CHICAGO (UPI)—A farm girl's kiss boosted the price for the nation's grand champion steer by $618 Tuesday.

The kiss from the lips of Darlene Hansen, 21, of Le Mars, Iowa, also insured a few extra acres for her sweetheart to farm after they're married next spring.

Darlene's kisses helped spur the auction bidding for Black Jewel, a 1,035 - pound Aberdeen Angus and grand champion of this year's International Live Stock Exposition, the nation's biggest farm show.

Black Jewel went for $22,356, or $21.60 a pound, to the Howard Johnson restaurant chain. The money, the third highest sum ever paid for a grand champion, will be shared by two Remsen, Iowa, brothers, Roy and Wayne Maass.

The price might have stayed at $21,738, or even lower if it hadn't been for the kisses of Darlene, who is Roy Maass's financee.

Darlene's kisses were bestowed upon Ellard Pfaelzer, member of the meat suppliers' firm representing the restaurant chain at the auction.

Half way through the bidding in the chilly Chicago stockyards, Pfaelzer pointed to the comely, auburn - haired girl standing beside Black Jewel and announced "If this little girl will kiss me I'll raise it a dollar."

Darlene obliged and the bidding continued until Black Jewel was knocked down to Pfaelzer at a price of $21 a pound. Pfaelzer's generosity, however, was unappeased.

"In honor of the 60th anniversary of the show and for kissing this little girl," Pfaelzer said, "I'm going to pay $21.60 for this fine animal."

Settles For Cigarets

Grandma, 80, Talks Thief Out Of Taking Her Money

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. George M. Purcell, 80-year-old great grandmother and operator of a suburban grocery and general merchandise store, met her first robber Monday night. She talked him out of taking her money.

"It was the first gun barrel I ever looked down in more than 50 years in this store," said Mrs. Purcell, a gray-haired woman who has 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

The Negro robber, about 30, came into the store and asked Mrs. Ottie Jackson for a carton of cigarets. Mrs. Jackson, 79, and an occasional helper at the store, asked the price.

"I told her $2.75," Mrs. Purcell said, "and came around the counter."

About that time, the robber pulled the gun from a lunch pail he was carrying and pointed it at the two women. He demanded money.

"I told him he wouldn't do us—two little old women—like that," Mrs. Purcell said. "I just kept talking and looking down that gun barrel. I told him I needed the money worse than he did and that I barely made enough to pay my taxes.

"I finally asked him what he would settle for. He said he would settle for the cigarets. He took the carton of cigarets and left."

Daring Pair Stages $90,000 Gem Theft

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Two men, one wearing a policeman's uniform, bluffed their way into a jeweler's private office and robbed him of an estimated $90,000 worth of diamonds late Tuesday.

Jeweler Mannie Topper, 53, said he and his wife, Sophie, 49, were alone in their store on the 12th floor of the Chemical Building in down St. Louis when the two men entered.

The man in police uniform told them he was investigating the theft of Topper's car six weeks ago, Topper said. Topper let the men into his private office.

Once inside, he said, the man in plainclothes pulled a revolver and the bandit in uniform began scooping up the gems.

Topper said the largest of the stolen diamonds was 7¾ carats and the rest were one or two carat stones. The amount of diamonds taken was not revealed.

Court Orders Woman To Surrender $4,000,000 Check Given Her In Error

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—A judge Tuesday ordered that a four million dollar check given in error to a housewife be delivered to the Hampden County Court clerk for safe keeping.

Judge Daniel D. O'Brien also granted a temporary injunction to prevent Mrs. James P. Walsh from disposing of the check given to her by a Holyoke bank.

The tall blonde wife of an Air Force staff sergeant moved nervously back and forth in her seat in the spectators gallery as John F. Carr, an attorney representing the Hadley Falls Trust Co., told the court the woman teller who issued the $4,000,022.75 check by mistake failed to report her error for about five hours after Mrs. Walsh left the bank.

Carr told the court Mrs. Walsh refused to return the check after she had been notified of the error. He said she had given it to her husband, who took it with him on a flight to Goose Bay, Labrador.

Previously Mrs. Walsh said she had intended to return the check when she was told the bank had made a mistake and given her four million dollars too much when she asked for a $22.75 money order. She said she changed her mind when the bank fired teller Anne Helliwell of Holyoke for making the error.

Defense attorney William T. Danaher Jr. was given 10 days to prepare his answer to the plaintiff's bills. After the defense has has filed, the case will be scheduled for trial.

Woman, 91, Dies Trying To Light Husband's Pipe

BAYVILLE, N. J. (AP)—A 91-year-old woman, attempting to light a pipe for her blind husband, burned to death when her clothes caught fire Monday.

The victim was Mrs. John Duym, who lived with her 92-year-old husband in a four-room house.

Police said her sweater caught fire as she attempted to light the pipe and the flames quickly engulfed her. Her husband suffered third-degree burns of both hands when he tried to extinguish the fire. He was in fair condition.

AF Practically Eliminates B70 Heavy Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The B70 heavy bomber program, on which a half-billion dollars has been spent, was practically eliminated Tuesday by the Air Force.

Instead of going ahead with plans to build the big bomber as a replacement for the present B52s, the Air Force said it is going to turn out only one or two test models of the B70, which is designed to fly three times the speed of sound.

A desire to cut defense costs and the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles were seen as major causes of the Air Force's decision.

The Air Force estimated it would save about 85 million dollars in next year's budget by trimming the B70 program.

The B52 program is still going ahead. The Air Force has several hundred of them and wants to get up to 700. The B52 carries a full load of nuclear bombs and some are being equipped with missiles that can carry up to 600 miles.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy disclosed the heavy reliance being placed on the B52 when he told a news conference Congress would be asked for more money to provide extra engines and crews to keep the bomb-laden B52s on continuous alert.

Nikirk Begins His Prison Sentence

BALTIMORE (AP) — Former States Atty. Edwin F. Nikirk of Frederick County was sent Tuesday to the federal prison at Danbury, Conn., to start serving a year's term for income tax evasion.

Nikirk, accompanied by his counsel, Cornelius P. Mundy, surrendered himself at the U. S. marshal's office here at 7:30 a.m.

Gerald F. Bracken, U. S. marshal, said Nikirk was taken by car along with two other prisoners and under the charge of two deputies. He was to go to Danbury via the federal detention barracks in New York City.

In addition to the prison sentence, the 43-year-old lawyer was fined $7,500. He had pleaded no contest 11 days ago to a charge of evading $10,423 in federal income taxes over a three-year period, 1952-54, while in private practice of law.

Nikirk was just beginning his third term as Frederick County prosecutor when he was indicted.

Ike Considers Latin America Trip Next Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Tuesday was reported considering a quick trip to Latin America early next year in an attempt to help snuff out anti-American feelings south of the border.

A reliable administration source said Eisenhower apparently would like to attend a meeting of all the presidents of the South American republics. Such a session has been proposed as a follow-up to the inter-American conference in Ecuador in February.

This would enable the President to pay his respects to all of the South American neighbors without the risks and physical strain of visiting a number of countries.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Tuesday a tour of the area had convinced him the administration had been too slow in dealing with problems in Latin America.

A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Latin America, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), is touring the area now.

Women Voters Urged To Push Legislature Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — The League of Women Voters was urged Tuesday to persevere in the movement to change the makeup in Maryland General Assembly.

Dr. Mildred Otenasek expressed shock at Legislative Council rejection of a commission's recommendations to reapportion the House of Delegates.

Mrs. Otenasek was on the commission headed by William C. Walsh of Cumberland. It proposed that Montgomery, Prince Georges, Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties be given more seats in the House.

Mrs. Otenasek told the League she found solace in the fact that at least another battle had been started to reapportion the Legislature even if it took 10 years to win.

The last major change in the Maryland General Assembly was in 1867.

According to figures prepared by the League of Women Voters, 15½ per cent of the state's population can elect a majority of senators and 27½ per cent a majority of the delegates.

The estimates were based on 1950 census figures and the League noted that urban areas since then have grown faster than rural.

Manuscript Brings $182,000 At Auction

LONDON (UPI)—An illuminated manuscript by a 13th century artist became one of the most expensive books in the world Tuesday with its sale to an American dealer for $182,000.

The New York City book store of H. P. Kraus made the winning bid for the magnificent Apocalypse (revelation of St. John the Divine) at a sale of 46 illuminated manuscripts at Sotheby's Auction Gallery.

Total for the sale — the second in a series of choice items from the collection of the late Dyson Perrins — was $820,484.

The first portion of the collection brought $914,536 last December.

NEW YORK (AP) — A Wall Street brokerage firm said Tuesday it believes there are good investment opportunities in certain "over-the-counter" stocks.

These issues are not listed on the New York and American stock exchanges.

"There is every reason to believe that many over-the-counter issues will participate in the selective stock market advance which we anticipate," said Shearson, Hammill & Co.

"Many of the unlisted issues are far too speculative for the average investors. However, a great many others represent shares in established, aggressive companies whose favorable prospects seem clearly defined, and we believe that investors who ignore the unlisted market are likely to miss many attractive opportunities."

The Value Line Investment Survey says it believes the stock market in 1960 will be dominated by two major conflicting influences: "The bullish influence — recovery in business which may be expected to follow the steel strike with its accumulation of inventory deficiencies; and the bearish influence — prevailing overvaluation in stock prices."

The survey concludes that the profit margin of business will be adversely affected by wage increases and taxes. It adds that "in terms of the Dow Jones industrial averages, stocks may struggle back to their highs around 680, but are unlikely to exceed this level by msch, and that in the end they will settle down to prices very substantially lower than at present."

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it feels "the present offers nothing more than a 'trading market,' currently at or near an upper level." It gives as its reasons: "Fourth quarter earnings will be ragged for many concerns faced with lack of steel, particularly the automobile industry and those engaged in heavy industry; residential housing starts are down, major wage contract negotiations remain unsettled and further tax selling in individual stocks can be anticipated.

Underwood Host To State Officials

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia will greet a contingent of the nation's governors and other state governmental officials here Wednesday.

Underwood will be host for a three-day series of meetings.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut will head tomorrow's session of the National Governors Conference's Committee on Roads and Highway Safety.

That group will consider mass transportation problems in urban areas, as well as other problems of motoring.

The board of managers of the Council of State Governments will hold its annual meeting Thursday and Friday. It is the governing body of the Council. Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida is president of the Council.

New York City's transportation is the largest municipally-owned system in the United States.

Rep. Friedel Files For Renomination

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Rep. Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md) filed Tuesday for renomination from the Seventh Congressional District in Baltimore City.

Friedel was elected when the district was formed and has been reelected three times.

Two other Democrats are thinking of opposing him for the nomination. Herbert R. O'Conor Jr., son of a former governor and U.S. Senator, has said he is considering it and state Del. Maurice Cardin (D-Balto 5th) has been reported taking soundings.

A Baltimore salesman, Morris Dviskin, already has filed for the Democratic nomination. Last February, he sought nomination as a Republican city councilman.

Railway To Seek Data On Relocation Of Road

F. L. Etchison, chief engineer for the Western Maryland Railway, wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that he will be in Cumberland next Tuesday and wants to confer on the proposed relocation of the Mexico Farms Road.

The railway is interested in the project as there are several grade crossings and rights of way of the company which are involved.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, December 8 during the afternoon at the office of S. W. George, division engineer of the Western Maryland Railway here.

The Mexico Farms Road relocation is made necessary due to the proposed overhead bridge across the new yards of the B&O Railroad in the area near the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant. The B&O Railroad will obtain information as far as the B&O is affected, according to Harry Skelly, county roads supervisor.

Plans for the overhead bridge and road relocation were made about two years ago. Much of the engineering work on the project has been completed and some rights of ways obtained to go ahead with the job.

About 20 average sized houses can be built from the wood of one large redwood tree.

Phone Company To Issue Stock

Authority to issue stock and debentures totaling $45,000,000 was requested of the Public Service Commission by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland.

In its application the company said the proceeds will be used to pay off short term borrowing and for its continuing construction program to extend and improve telephone facilities through out Maryland. The new issues planned include $25,000,000 in debentures and $20,000,000 in common stock.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which owns all of the C. & P.'s common stock, at the same time applied to the commission for authority to purchase the new stock issue.

The C. & P. has bonds outstanding in the amount of $55,000,000 and common stock in the amount of $205,000,000. The company's investment in telephone equipment and facilities in Maryland amounted to $403,000,000 as of November 1, 1959. This is an increase of $98,000,000 since January 1, 1957.

Committee Reports On Aid For Miners Hospital

The future of Miners Hospital in Frostburg will be discussed by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners and the committee which has proposed a method of operating the institution.

Under a bill passed in the 1959 General Assembly, direct state aid to the hospital is to cease on July 1, 1961.

At that time, according to the bill, if a private corporation has not taken it over, it must be continued to be operated by the county commissioners.

Faced with the prospect of having another institution to maintain—the county is the only one in Maryland with an infirmary and an asylum—the county commissioners appointed a committee to study the future operation of the hospital.

The full committee is composed of the county commissioners, Mayor and City Council of Frostburg and the board of directors of the hospital.

A sub-committee composed of W. Earle Cobey, John A. Moberly and William S. Jenkins after a lengthy study proposed private operation by a corporation formed of the hospital's board of directors, one county commissioner and one from the Frostburg mayor and council.

The full committee adopted a policy of going for continued state subsidization, and if that cannot be achieved, the subcommittee's plan would be followed.

The full report of the subcommittee, released yesterday by John J. Rowan, president of the board of county commissioners, is as follows:

"The sub-committee appointed by you to make a recommendation to the large committee charged with making recommendations relative to Miner's Hospital presents to you and this committee the following report and recommendations.

"The sub-committee has met several times and studied the figures furnished by the Miner's Hospital. It is our opinion that if the Miner's Hospital charged rates comparable to other area hospitals of similar size and paid salaries comparable to those paid by other area hospitals of similar size that the Miner's Hospital could operate within a budget if the City of Frostburg and the Allegany County Commissioners made an appropriation to insure the Miners Hospital's financial solvency.

"At this writing, it is our belief that an appropriation of $20,000.00 per year should be made available to the Miner's Hospital. It is our suggestion that the City of Frostburg appropriate $10,000.00 and the Allegany County Commissioners appropriate a like amount.

"However, we would like to stress that the committee's study has required its making many educated guesses, but after studying the figures available to the committee, we feel the recommendation as outlined above to be a fairly accurate forecast of the hospital's financial requirements.

"Your sub-committee further submits herewith the following recommendations:

"(a) That the Miner's Hospital be conveyed to a non-profit corporation whose membership shall be composed of the present Board of Directors, plus a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Allegany County and the Mayor of Frostburg, the latter two to be ex-officio members. Consideration should be given to placing an age limit on the members.

"Your sub-committee feels very strongly that Miner's Hospital should be maintained as a separate, local facility for the benefit of Frostburg and the adjoining communities. In order that its local identity may be maintained it has recommended that the present Board constitute the new corporation. By making the Board self-perpetuating, there will be no political aspects to its organization either now or at a later date. Since, as will hereinafter be shown, the City and the County have a financial interest in the operation of this hospital, the Mayor of Frostburg and a member of the County Commissioners should also be on the Board of the new hospital.

"(b) The physical assets of the Miner's Hospital should be conveyed by the State to the new corporation on July 1, 1960; all accounts receivable owed to said hospital likewise should be assigned to the new corporation; and State Aid to the hospital in the amount of $85,000.00 a year, which is now guaranteed to the hospital for the fiscal year 1960-61 should be continued.

This State Aid would be in lieu of any payments for care of the indigent to be made by the State to the hospital during that fiscal year.

"As has heretofore been indicated, if the hospital is to be operated successfully without State Aid, the corporation which will take over will have to make extensive changes in the present mode of operation of the hospital. The first year under private control will be difficult and more expensive than it should be later. Accordingly, the transition from State control to local control should be made as soon as possible, and State Aid should be continued for the first year during the difficult period of changeover. It is the hope of your subcommittee that if this changeover is made next July, with State Aid continuing for the following year, that by July 1, 1961 when all State Aid will cease, except for such as is normally made to other hospitals for aid to the indigent, the hospital will be on a sound financial basis. It is also your subcommittee's hope that it will have a sufficient amount of operating capital to enable it to continue to minister to the needs of Frostburg and the surrounding communities without calling upon the County or the City of Frostburg for operating capital.

"Your sub-committee desires to emphasize that this operating capital can only come from an economical and businesslike administration of the hospital's affairs during this transition year, and that no windfall can be expected from the accounts receivable. A small amount may be realized from this source, but an analysis of the accounts indicates that most of them are either uncollectible or that the State will have collected the good accounts between now and July 1st.

"(c) In order to insure the credit of the hospital, to permit it to keep its facilities in good condition, and also to permit it to purchase additional equipment needed from time to time to keep pace with advances in medicine, the City of Frostburg and the County should be required to include in their annual appropriations the sum of $10,000 each for the operation of the Miner's Hospital.

"In conclusion, your subcommittee wishes to emphasize that its recommendations are based on its considered opinion that a definite plan for the transfer of Miner's Hospital from the State to private control must be submitted to the State Legislature if Frostburg is to continue to have this facility; that the hospital can be operated as a private facility if it has an opportunity to have one year of State Aid while under private control; and that the proposals of the subcommittee will not place any additional financial burden on the State. An appropriation of $10,000 from the Town of Frostburg and the County Commissioners is not unreasonable in the light of the need for this million dollar facility."

City To Agree On Collections Of Water Rents

General agreement has been reached on a proposal to establish the Cumberland Savings Bank as a collection agency for city water and sewage bills, it was learned yesterday.

The Mayor and Council is expected to act on the agreement Monday pending approval by bank officials and all members of council.

The agreement will not be in the form of a "contract" as originally proposed, it was said, but will enable the city or the bank to terminate the plan on 30 days notice. In its first form, the agreement would have been for five years and contained a minimum amount which the city would have to carry in a checking account. No minimum is provided in the new proposal.

The move was introduced Monday before council, but held up by a 3-2 vote after City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said he had not seen the proposal and he wanted to be heard on several phases of it. Gibson, Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Attorney William R. Carscaden met briefly on the matter yesterday.

The motion to delay by Commissioner John J. Long also contained the provision that the matter be settled 'once and for all" Monday.

In other council activity, Monday, Long was given authority to advertise for bids on 264 lineal feet of 29 by 45 inch elliptical reinforced concrete pipe and 220 feet of 24 inch cylindrical reinforced concrete pipe for use of the Sewer Maintenance Department.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming paid tribute to the student bodies and officials of Allegany, Fort Hill and LaSalle High Schools for their conduct at pep rallies and other observances in connection with the holiday football games. He also said the Auxiliary Police did an excellent job handling traffic and added that the town a. a whole should be commended for its cooperation during the holiday traffic jamup.

A resolution commending the Times and Alleganian Company for its stand against certain types of theatre advertising was approved and a copy is to be sent to the company.

Seeping Sewage Problem At Cresaptown Discussed

J. Byron Dowling, state sanitary inspector with the Allegany County Health Department, conferred with county officials yesterday on a sewage problem in Cresaptown.

Dowling said that raw sewage is seeping onto three streets in the community and that 27 property owners are involved. He said he has talked the matter over with most of the property owners and hopes to be able to get a program under way to correct the situation.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said the situation can be corrected by following the same procedure used in the LaVale area some months ago.

Commissioner John T. Mason, who resides near the community, said he is interested in having a plan selected which would be of a permanent nature and not temporary. If the property owners go ahead with a temporary plan, then in some future date they would be subjected to added expense.

Dowling said he could obtain the assistance of the State Department of Health in having a survey made and some suggestions for a solution of the sewage problem. Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, told the county commissioners that the sewage drains onto a tract of land which can not absorb the fluid and some plan must be made to handle it by piping to some other place where absorption could take place.

It was suggested that some responsible group in Cresaptown could form a sanitary district for an eventual solution of the entire problem in the community.

Legion Seeks Direct GI Loans Here

The veterans housing committee of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, is renewing its efforts to have the Veterans Administration approve direct GI loans for veterans who wish to purchase property in Cumberland.

Howard M. Spiker, committee chairman, has written a letter to Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of veterans affairs in Washington, asking him to review his previous stand on the matter and make a new evaluation based on information sent to him.

On August 20, 1958, the Veterans Administration, through the efforts of the local committee, approved direct GI loans to veterans who wish to purchase property in the Allegany County area.

Would Help Economy

Quite a number of veterans have taken advantage of the loans. Several have acquired homes in the county and several are now in the process of getting loans. The Legion feels the approval of loans has helped the economy of the county, and that approval for those wishing to buy property in Cumberland would help the local economy.

The committee also feels that local banking institutions would welcome the advent of the Veterans Administration in this field, the letter stated.

Mr. Spiker said a recent survey made of 144 employes in Cumberland who are veterans showed that only 15 per cent had received GI loans. It was also pointed out that Hagerstown has the advantage of the direct loan program.

Deadline Nearing

July 25, 1960 is the deadline for eligible World War II veterans to apply for direct GI loans. The committee said it hopes the Veterans Administration will approve direct loans for those who might be able to process their loans during the period allowed. Korean war veterans have until 1965 to have their applications honored.

Mr. Spiker said veterans interested in getting direct GI loans to build homes or purchase property in Cumberland are asked to visit the local Veterans Administration office, Room 308 Post Office Building, or phone PA 2-3611.

Copies of the letter were sent to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland; Cumberland Real Estate Board; Building Trades Council; U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall; U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler; Rep. John R. Foley; the Maryland Department of the American Legion, Baltimore; and F. E. Quinn, manager of the VA in Baltimore.

Groves Is President Of Barber's Union

J. William Groves last night was elected president of Local 324, Barber's Union, during a meeting held at the Labor Temple on South Centre Street.

Vice president for the coming year will be Frank Greco; Joseph P. Derrico, secretary-treasurer; John L. McGeady, recording secretary; Irvin C. Brant, guide, and William P. Keller, guardian.

Members of the financial committee are Mr. McGeady, Sam Gregg and Russell Bittner.

An installation of officers will be held at the January 5 meeting, when refreshments will be served.

School Cafeteria Sanitation Discussed

School lunch sanitation was discussed at a meeting held here yesterday.

Attending were Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of public school cafeterias; Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and the sanitation staff of the Health Department.

Health Department officials were told that recommendations made following inspections will be carried out as soon as possible.

Included in the conference was a review of state rules governing eating and drinking establishments.

Assembly Unit

Della (D-Balto 6th) rapped it to approval without a dissenting vote.

As under the present formula, a major factor of the new plan would be an item known as the "benefit ratio." It is determined for each employer by dividing his total payroll for a given period by the unemployment benefits paid in the same period to workers he has fired or furloughed.

How System Works

If the money in the unemployment insurance fund remains at a certain level deemed sound by financial experts, the employer now pays a tax of .2 to 2.7 per cent of the first $3,000 a year earned by each of his employes.

The employer with the low benefit ratio pays the least; the one with the high ratio pays the most; others pay .3, .6, .9, 1.2, 1.5, 1.8, 2.1, or 2.4 depending on their ratios.

But if the fund total drops below that certain level, the tax rate of those paying less than the maximum steps up a notch to beef up the fund again.

An additional surtax is also charged, and the employer already at the 2.7 tax level pays a bigger surtax than the fellow paying a lower percentage of tax.

In time of high employment, the unemployment insurance fund bounces along at well over one hundred million dollars. But by last week, drained by payments to the jobless, it had dropped to about 69½ million dollars.

Some Would Benefit

Under the plan approved by the council Tuesday, employers with the biggest personnel turnover would pay an unemployment insurance tax of 3.6 per cent, compared with the present 2.7 maximum.

Those with the smallest turnover would pay .3 per cent.

Although the present floor is now theoretically .2 per cent, the practical minimum is .3 per cent plus a .5 surcharge because of the relatively low level of the fund.

Another major change would involve an "adjustment factor."

Under the present setup, a laid off worker collects a basic insurance payment for himself and an additional amount for his wife, children or other dependents; but only the basic amount is used in figuring his former employer's benefit ratio.

Under the new formula, this would be adjusted to include all benefits he collects, in effect boosting the employer's ratio — and tax.

Board Will Meet

The executive board of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. in the union hall.

Grass Fire Checked

Firemen from South End station yesterday afternoon extinguished a grass fire on Stewart Avenue. The call was received at 3:36 p. m. and the firemen were out about 11 minutes.

Will Build Home

Gilbert H. Minnigh, 214 Mary Street, has secured a permit from the City of Cumberland to build a one-story brick dwelling on Lots 28 and 29 of Michigan Avenue. It will be 28 by 29 feet and will cost $7,500, according to the permit.

Condemned Food Destroyed Here

Several parcels of food were destroyed yesterday by the Health Department.

Included were 14 cases of canned fruit, bulging due to can defects, a quantity of spoiled dried fruit and a milkshake type material termed too old for sale.

The food was dumped at the request of a local food broker following laboratory tests.

More forest fires in the United States are started on Sunday than on any other day in the week.

Legion Seeks Direct GI Loans Here

The veterans housing committee of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, is renewing its efforts to have the Veterans Administration approve direct GI loans for veterans who wish to purchase property in Cumberland.

Howard M. Spiker, committee chairman, has written a letter to Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of veterans affairs in Washington, asking him to review his previous stand on the matter and make a new evaluation based on information sent to him.

On August 20, 1958, the Veterans Administration, through the efforts of the local committee, approved direct GI loans to veterans who wish to purchase property in the Allegany County area.

Would Help Economy

Quite a number of veterans have taken advantage of the loans. Several have acquired homes in the county and several are now in the process of getting loans. The Legion feels the approval of loans has helped the economy of the county, and that approval for those wishing to buy property in Cumberland would help the local economy.

The committee also feels that local banking institutions would welcome the advent of the Veterans Administration in this field, the letter stated.

Mr. Spiker said a recent survey made of 144 employes in Cumberland who are veterans showed that only 15 per cent had received GI loans. It was also pointed out that Hagerstown has the advantage of the direct loan program.

Deadline Nearing

July 25, 1960 is the deadline for eligible World War II veterans to apply for direct GI loans. The committee said it hopes the Veterans Administration will approve direct loans for those who might be able to process their loans during the period allowed. Korean war veterans have until 1965 to have their applications honored.

Mr. Spiker said veterans interested in getting direct GI loans to build homes or purchase property in Cumberland are asked to visit the local Veterans Administration office, Room 308 Post Office Building, or phone PA 2-3611.

Copies of the letter were sent to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland; Cumberland Real Estate Board; Building Trades Council; U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall; U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler; Rep. John R. Foley; the Maryland Department of the American Legion, Baltimore; and F. E. Quinn, manager of the VA in Baltimore.

School Cafeteria Sanitation Discussed

School lunch sanitation was discussed at a meeting held here yesterday.

Attending were Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of public school cafeterias; Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and the sanitation staff of the Health Department.

Health Department officials were told that recommendations made following inspections will be carried out as soon as possible.

Included in the conference was a review of state rules governing eating and drinking establishments.

Assembly Unit

Della (D-Balto 6th) rapped it to approval without a dissenting vote.

As under the present formula, a major factor of the new plan would be an item known as the "benefit ratio." It is determined for each employer by dividing his total payroll for a given period by the unemployment benefits paid in the same period to workers he has fired or furloughed.

How System Works

If the money in the unemployment insurance fund remains at a certain level deemed sound by financial experts, the employer now pays a tax of .2 to 2.7 per cent of the first $3,000 a year earned by each of his employes.

The employer with the low benefit ratio pays the least; the one with the high ratio pays the most; others pay .3, .6, .9, 1.2, 1.5, 1.8, 2.1, or 2.4 depending on their ratios.

But if the fund total drops below that certain level, the tax rate of those paying less than the maximum steps up a notch to beef up the fund again.

An additional surtax is also charged, and the employer already at the 2.7 tax level pays a bigger surtax than the fellow paying a lower percentage of tax.

In time of high employment, the unemployment insurance fund bounces along at well over one hundred million dollars. But by last week, drained by payments to the jobless, it had dropped to about 69½ million dollars.

Some Would Benefit

Under the plan approved by the council Tuesday, employers with the biggest personnel turnover would pay an unemployment insurance tax of 3.6 per cent, compared with the present 2.7 maximum.

Those with the smallest turnover would pay .3 per cent.

Although the present floor is now theoretically .2 per cent, the practical minimum is .3 per cent plus a .5 surcharge because of the relatively low level of the fund.

Another major change would involve an "adjustment factor."

Under the present setup, a laid off worker collects a basic insurance payment for himself and an additional amount for his wife, children or other dependents; but only the basic amount is used in figuring his former employer's benefit ratio.

Under the new formula, this would be adjusted to include all benefits he collects, in effect boosting the employer's ratio — and tax.

Board Will Meet

The executive board of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. in the union hall.

Grass Fire Checked

Firemen from South End station yesterday afternoon extinguished a grass fire on Stewart Avenue. The call was received at 3:36 p. m. and the firemen were out about 11 minutes.

Will Build Home

Gilbert H. Minnigh, 214 Mary Street, has secured a permit from the City of Cumberland to build a one-story brick dwelling on Lots 28 and 29 of Michigan Avenue. It will be 28 by 29 feet and will cost $7,500, according to the permit.

Condemned Food Destroyed Here

Several parcels of food were destroyed yesterday by the Health Department.

Included were 14 cases of canned fruit, bulging due to can defects, a quantity of spoiled dried fruit and a milkshake type material termed too old for sale.

The food was dumped at the request of a local food broker following laboratory tests.

More forest fires in the United States are started on Sunday than on any other day in the week.

TV, Newspaper Actions Contrast

One of the most disturbing elements in the current television mess has been the reluctance of stations to act against its officials and employes shown to be miscreants. The major highly publicized exception has been that of Charles Van Doren, a formerly obscure college teacher who has been retired to new obscurity.

The public may be interested to know that in at least two instances newspapers have shown they have no intention of mollycoddling wrongdoers.

The New York World-Telegram and Sun fired two staff members because one of them on a television show falsely charged that a top official had offered them a bribe. After the newspaper learned that the newsman had admitted to the district attorney that he had lied, it fired both men in identical one-paragraph letters notifying them the false statement had "destroyed your usefulness on this newspaper."

In another recent case a newspaper took fast action to halt an alleged bribery effort. Newsday, a Long Island newspaper, notified police that one of its reporters had been offered $5,000 by a New York publicist to write favorable stories about the East Coast Teamster boss, John J. O'Rourke, under indictment on extortion charges in a juke-box scandal.

The police set a trap, with the reporter under orders from the newspaper receiving two payments totaling $230. The publicist was then arrested and indicted. "This required courageous cooperation on the part of Newsday," said the district attorney.

It also offers an interesting contrast to what the television networks did not do in most cases when outside interests tampered with their employes.

Best Dressed Women

I suppose that most folks wonder how the twelve best dressed women in the world are selected. Each year such a list appears and some are very happy but there must be many broken hearts as well as emptied purses. Being curious about such matters myself, particularly as I think that I was once described as one of the worst dressed men, I got hold of a ballot.

It was an exciting excursion into female affairs, for only women could organize so elaborate an institution. The entire enterprise is conducted by the New York Couture Group of which the charming Eleanor Lambert is the Press Director and probably the whole works. It appears that more than 2,000 "qualified observers of contemporary fashion" vote for a dozen of the best dressed women.

The New York Couture Group, Inc., consists of 37 dressmakers and designers who make some of the clothes that some of the women wear. The women look expensive to me but then I know nothing about women's clothes except that they often cover the female body inadequately and vary so widely that no mere man can draw too much of a conclusion about them. It must be a gay competition for these girls to see which ones come out on top.

The list of those "cited by fashion authorities as women of distinguished taste" is very long and contains many names not only unknown to me but surely to most folks. There are some very young ones on the list and some very, very old ones. Far be it from me to suggest that any of them are not beautifully gowned but it would be hard to judge. My eye falls on one from Edinburgh and another from London and there are some from every large city in the United States. Altogether this list contains 152 names which is a lot to choose from.

I am indeed fortunate for two or three of the women are among my great favorites and I should vote for them for anything from president of a P.T.A. to Vice President of the United States.

As to what they wear, I really could not say. I can describe their faces, the beauty of their eyes, the glory of their hair—but not the color which is interchangeable. I can repeat the brilliance of their conversation but clothes, I am sure, are little more than a covering for bodies worn by unnecessary exercise and excessive dieting to get into the contraptions in which they move about with difficulty.

I once accused a dress designer of belonging to a craft that professionally hated women because it put them into such ridiculous clothing. He denied the allegation and looked at me with contempt.

And yet, as one goes back into the history of clothing, there have been periods when man was the peacock and women clothed themselves with a degree of sanity. The French Revolution put an end to men wearing ostrich feathers and fanciful colored doublets and hose. They moved into sober black and let their trousers fall long and they got rid of silver buckles and lace cuffs.

The girls took over and have for a few centuries really gone wild in design, fabric and color until now one might really say that the dressmakers control the lives of women. There is, however, a democracy in this country. It does not take long for the department stores to show the exclusive designs to the hourly wage workers and in a little longer time, the dresses find their way to the outlet shops and everybody—but everybody—is wearing them. Exclusiveness is not for this era just as aristocracy has died nearly everywhere and most titles have been made illegitimate by revolution.

Indeed so democratic is this age that a Queen appears on a list with former models, something that could not have happened either in the 18th or 19th centuries. In fact, it would be fascinating to make a sociological study, to say nothing of a psychological analysis, of this list of 152 ladies and women—using a 19th century distinction—to find whether the most gorgeously clothed woman is, indeed, the most beautiful. And what does it really matter if it is or is not so? A woman is beautiful in the eyes of the beholder even if she wears hardly anything, as Brigitte Bardot has established.

Possible Relaxation Of "Cold War" Considered Italy's Big Problem

By Drew Pearson

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is on a 20-day tour of Europe and Asia to interview the leaders of the 11 countries President Eisenhower will visit, and to report on what they will talk to Ike about. Here, from Rome, is the first of Pearson's dispatches.

ROME—At a long desk facing row after row of nearly empty seats in the Italian Chamber of Deputies sat a small, thin figure of a man. He was Antonio Segni, Prime Minister of Italy, and he sat alone.

Opposite him in the vast amphitheatre of Italian Democracy sat a sprinkling of Christian Democrats who support Segni but, as I watched the debate, not many were present to do so.

On the right facing him were empty seats of Monarchists, Fascists, and the Liberals with only one deputy present. But on the left, the seats reserved for Communists and Socialists were almost full as their speakers criticized winter "relief payments" for the unemployed in Italy.

The Prime Minister of Italy sat there patiently. His thin face, eagle nose, and a collar too big for his neck gave him an almost bird-like appearance. He listened, said nothing. Behind him was a great bronze mural depicting the forces of Garibaldi which first brought democracy to Italy meeting the forces of King Victor Emmanuel in the first unification of Italian states in 1861. That democracy had been stopped dead by Mussolini when the present Prime Minister was a young leader in Catholic Action. His political career had been suspended in midair during Fascism; now he and other believers in democracy were working to make sure that the catastrophe of Fascism—or Communism — didn't come to Italy again.

That is why Segni sat so patiently listening to the Socialist-Communist debate. This was democracy at work in the new Italy and this was the man President Eisenhower will meet first on his historic tour of Europe and Asia.

Italy's Problem

Eventually Segni left the chamber debate to step outside and talk with me regarding the problems of Italy and the United States, some of which he'll discuss with President Eisenhower. He was guarded in his comments but, a few days earlier, he and Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis had agreed their chief problem was relaxation—and they didn't refer to relaxation on the beaches of the Riviera. They referred to the growing, gnawing fear on the part of European leaders that President Eisenhower is going to ask them to reverse the policy which the United States sold them, but now wants to unsell them—the relaxation of the "cold war" with Russia.

For something more than 10 years the United States has pounded home the idea that Communism would ruin the world, that the Italian Communist Party must be defeated, that Europe must contribute arms to the NATO alliance to combat the Communist military threat. Now, suddenly, the leaders who bought this policy see the United States unselling it.

Segni, according to some of his friends, had wanted to discuss this with Eisenhower when he arrived in Washington just a few hours after Khrushchev departed last September. But Ike was then suffering a cold and was so anxious to depart for George Allen's Palm Springs ranch that Premier Segni felt sorry for him. Nothing very vital was discussed then.

But when Ike arrives in Rome later this week, certainly the all-important question of "relaxation" will be foremost on the agenda. Unless another potent force in the Italian government intervenes. He is Giovanni Gronchi, president of Italy, who is planning a trip of his own to see Soviet Premier Khrushchev January 8. This brings to the fore a serious split within the Italian governing party about which there will be more tomorrow.

Different, Vital Italy

Meanwhile Premier Segni will be able to show President Eisenhower an Italy far different from that General Eisenhower saw when, as allied commander, he helped take Italy from the Axis armies. It's an Italy whose currency is somewhat sounder than the dollar—it has $3,000,000,000 on deposit in New York — and whose democracy is just as sound as its economy.

Segni's shrewd, tough economic policies, including land reform, are partly responsible for this.

When I asked Segni about the fact he had given up his own land in Sardinia to be divided among the landless, he replied "there was nothing unusual about it. An organization exists in Sardinia for distributing land, and it handled the matter. Already in southern Italy land has become three times more productive under new individual owners. This is a long-range program and it will become even more productive.

"Does your government have the system of interpolation on the floor of your Congress?" he asked, explaining that, as minister of the Interior, he had to answer questions in parliamentary debate.

"No," I replied.

"You are lucky," he sighed and went back to the job of sitting all alone opposite the Socialist-Communist opposition — back to the job of making democracy work in Italy.

U. S. China Policy Change Would Gain Nothing

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

In ancient Japan, the Emperor and his courtiers were sometimes called the "Above the clouds-dwellers," to denote their high remoteness from the coarse realities of every day life. The phrase nicely describes the well-meaning, intelligent and often quite highly placed persons who advocate a new American approach to Communist China at this time.

This much, at least, needs to be said as a kind of final footnote to the long bout of inquiry across the Pacific which this reporter has just completed. It needs to be said, particularly, because of the signs that some leading Democrats, such as Adlai Stevenson and even the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator William Fulbright of Arkansas, are tending towards open advocacy of a new approach to Communist China.

At the behest of Senator Fulbright for instance, a San Francisco public relations firm, Conlon Associates, was somewhat oddly assigned to review our Asian policy. The just-published Conlon Associates report does not go the whole hog. There is no call for recognition of the Chinese Communists and their admission to the United Nations, but the report proposes a policy of "exploration and negotiation" as the next best thing.

On the spot, meanwhile, the best opinion is now just about unanimous that the circumstances could not be less favorable for any change at all in the American policy towards Chinese Communists. Among the very large group of extremely able Englishmen and Americans who study Communist China from the vantage point of Hong Kong, there are many who disapproved of the American China policy when it was adopted. Among the English business leaders in Hong Kong, several even played a leading role in persuading London to recognize the Peking government without waiting for Washington.

By no means all these men who disapproved of our China policy when it was adopted have been converted to the view that it was the right policy in the first instance. Quite a number still feel that it would have been better for the United States to extend de facto recognition to Peking ten years ago. But all of these men, or at least all of them known to this reporter, believe that nothing will be gained, and a great deal will be lost, by any softening of the American attitude towards the Chinese Communists at this time.

The reason for this opinion is quite simple. The Chinese Communists have now entered a phase of really ferocious Stalinism, all their energies are now concentrated on building military-industrial power on a foundation of their peoples misery while this grim experiment wholly preoccupies them, there is nothing to be done with them. In particular, there is no way at all to negotiate with them, about the problem of the Formosa Strait or any other outstanding problem.

In their present mood, at once neurotically suspicious and paranoiacally arrogant, the masters of Peking would at once greet the smallest feeler from Washington as a sign of weakness and admission of defeat. The risks that the advocates of a new approach desire to minimize would in fact be increased. For if they thought they detected signs of weakness in the American government, Mao Tse-tung and his colleagues would only be emboldened to commit further aggressive acts.

The idea that these ruthless men, in their present mood, can be molified or tamed by "exploration and negotiation," or by American recognition, or by an invitation to join the U. N., is on a par with a scheme for taming a hungry tiger by putting a baby in the cage with it. By the same token, this kind of misguided attempt to tame or mollify the masters of Peking will not merely do positive harm in Peking. It will also convey an impression of American weakness and retreat to all the millions of Asians who now fear the Chinese Communists, including even the Indians who go on prating in the opposite sense.

While China's agony continues, in short, no new departure can usefully be made, except perhaps by Nikita S. Khrushchev. No external influence, except perhaps Soviet influence, can affect the outcome of the gigantic, cruel and awe-inspiring experiment that is now being made in China. In these circumstances, the only prudent course for the American policymakers is to be patient and watchful until the situation inside China is changed either by the experiment's failure or by its final success. Doing nothing is seldom preferable to doing something, but it is certainly preferable in this case.

AID TO EDUCATION — Federal aid to education looms as a political issue in the 1960 political campaigns. The fight will not be whether but how much aid should be given and under what circumstances.

The education issue lies in the background of United States faltering in the missile and space race with Russia, which is certain to be a prime issue to be raised by Democrats.

Some potential Democratic Presidential candidates already have struck on the education theme, the latest being Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas. Johnson proposes that the government guarantee education loans to college students.

In general terms Democrats back a program of direct aid to states based on the number of children of school age. A bill now in Congress to achieve this would cost about a billion dollars a year for four years. The grants would be used to build new schools and increase teachers' salaries.

Republicans support President Eisenhower's proposal to pay half of the interest and principal on construction bonds issued for new school buildings. This program would provide about $5 billion in new public schools over a five-year period, but the federal obligation would be stretched out 20 to 30 years.

Just recently members of the House Education and Labor Committee drafted a compromise program incorporating some features of both bills. But it is doubtful that any legislation will get through the next session of Congress.

Most of the nation's teachers and educators back the Democratic program, according to spokesmen for their national organizations. Parents of school children in substandard areas think primarily of need for better education, rather than cost. This is a sizable political bloc. Politicians are out to exploit it.

Part 1–The Bill Rose Story

The last of the exquisite baronial mansions is at 56 East 93rd Street, New York. It is a rare jewel, squeezed and shouldered by rough apartment houses. Its halls echo to the delicately slippered feet of Billy Rose. It's his. The solemn faces that look down from the walls may be signed by Goya and Gainsborough and Rembrandt, and they are cherished by the lonely story-teller who walks the halls.

Mr. Rose is called a showman. He produced Jumbo and Carmen Jones and the Aquacade and many other spectacles. He isn't really a showman. He has also been called a dollar machine, but he isn't that either. He's a picture framer. If the picture has real beauty — whether it's a painting or a show or a live girl —Billy Rose will tack a frame around it and hang it somewhere for everybody to see.

Few men have more appreciation for true beauty, and few men started with less of it. Billy Rose was born Rosenbloom on the East Side. He never knew a time when his father brought $25 a week home. The Rosenblooms were poor among the poor. They moved frequently to save a month's rent, and there were times when Billy and his two younger sisters were sent to bed without a meal.

The flat on Allen Street was full of people who commiserated with one another. There was a joy, and a loyalty, in poverty, and they shared the happiness of birth and marriage, and wept the grief of illness and death. It was and is a place of Yiddish lamentation and philosophy — most of all, of neighbors.

In their nothingness they had everything. The beach was a fire escape; Delmonico's was the icebox in the kitchen; love was a stout mother purring foreign diminutives in a child's ear; the mountains were a climb to a tarpaper roof; God was in the shadows behind a flickering menorah; wealth was a $15 cloth coat; friendship was a gruff voice saying: "So? What's new?"

The map says that it is six miles from Allen Street to East 93rd. The map lies. It is a million miles and it costs a dollar a mile. Billy Rose made it because he was born running. He made it because he had to do something better than it had ever been done. He wanted money too—he doesn't knock it—but he had to shine brightly at something.

He was still a boy when he was a champion stenographer. He worked for Bernard M. Baruch and the War Industries Board in 1918. Billy was earning $200 a week when his father was still trying to make $25. Whenever he reached a point where he thought the job could not be done better, Billy Rose quit and tried something else.

The body was small—he looked like a dissipated jockey—but the mind was big and the ambition was enormous. He wrote songs: It's Only a Paper Moon, Me and My Shadow; The Night is Young and You're So Beautiful; Without a Song. He wrote others too, and these brought in $50,000 a year in royalties.

When Mr. Rose felt that he was writing lyrics about as well as anyone in the business, he dropped it. He took his money into the night club business. He opened the Casino de Paree, the first New York theatre restaurant. He followed with the Casa Manana, and The Diamond Horseshoe. His places made money, and he kept the money because he had bigger plans and Mr. Rose does not believe in partners.

He owns one hundred percent of everything he touches. This is sometimes embarrassing because, when he places a woman on a pedestal, her feet sometimes chill on the marble until her heart grows cold. Mr. Rose married Fanny Brice, Eleanor Holm and Joyce Matthews.

Hair, Nails Grow After Death, Study Shows

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Do the hair and nails grow after death? This is a controversial question and I have never found proof in my browsing that anything grows after life departs. But several months ago in Pediatrics, a medical journal, I saw what may be the answer.

Dr. Maarten S. Sibinga has measured the growth of finger nails under various circumstances. The daily, normal growth of a nail is so slight he had to make measurements from enlarged photographs taken every 24 hours. Growth is not altered by malnutrition or a restricted diet but it is by certain diseases, among them measles and kidney disorders.

Dr. Sibinga measured also the nail growth of three dead adults. The nails grew at a low normal average rate for three days and at a somewhat slower rate thereafter. Nail growth was inhibited more by measles than by death.

When a cataract is removed, the lens of the eye is gone forever. Vision is restored but the victim needs contact or regular lenses to see more clearly. Plastic lenses have been inserted into the eye that was operated on but the results are questionable.

English researchers from the university at Hull may have found the way to make a new lens grow within the eye. They went back to the origin of the lens, which develops in the unborn child from fetal tissues that nature singled out for this specific purpose. Lenses were taken out of the eyes of several rabbits and replaced with this fetal cytolysing lens tissue. Within 10 to 16 months new lenses grew that appeared to be of normal size.

The idea sounds fantastic but time will tell whether the experiment is worth trying in humans. Many questions remain to be answered as the penalty for errors in humans is rather high.

HEART FLIP FLOPS

Mrs. A. writes: What causes the sensation as if the heart were jumping into the throat?

REPLY

This refers to extrasystole, a condition in which extra beats occur from time to time because the nervous tissue in the heart muscle is hyperirritable. This may stem from too many stimulants (coffee, tea, or tobacco) or from an overactive nervous system. It usually is noticed when the old ticker is beating slowly. The extra beat is uncomfortable and often scares the individual. It has no significance and can be corrected by avoiding the causes or using a medicine like quinidine to reduce heart irritability.

CAN'T CO-ORDINATE

L. H. writes: How does a person with locomotor ataxia act?

REPLY

In this condition, there is loss of balance and coordination. Some victims walk as though they did not know where their feet are; others reel like drunks. The arms behave in an equally bizarre fashion. Vision and bladder control may be affected, when the nerves leading to these structures are involved.

VITAMINS

H. L. writes: I seem to develop a headache whenever I take vitamin pills. Would you know the reason why?

REPLY

You may be allergic to one of the ingredients in the pills or the surrounding capsules. If you are taking vitamin B complex, for example, it may contain nicotinic acid which dilates the blood vessels of the brain on the affected side. This could induce headache.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. L. writes: Can a woman conceive with an upside down uterus?

REPLY

Yes. According to Dr. James P. Fitzgibbons, approximately 20 per cent of women have titled uterus and the majority are capable of becoming pregnant. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on displacement of the uterus.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

TV, Newspaper Actions Contrast

One of the most disturbing elements in the current television mess has been the reluctance of stations to act against its officials and employes shown to be miscreants. The major highly publicized exception has been that of Charles Van Doren, a formerly obscure college teacher who has been retired to new obscurity.

The public may be interested to know that in at least two instances newspapers have shown they have no intention of mollycoddling wrongdoers.

The New York World-Telegram and Sun fired two staff members because one of them on a television show falsely charged that a top official had offered them a bribe. After the newspaper learned that the newsman had admitted to the district attorney that he had lied, it fired both men in identical one-paragraph letters notifying them the false statement had "destroyed your usefulness on this newspaper."

In another recent case a newspaper took fast action to halt an alleged bribery effort. Newsday, a Long Island newspaper, notified police that one of its reporters had been offered $5,000 by a New York publicist to write favorable stories about the East Coast Teamster boss, John J. O'Rourke, under indictment on extortion charges in a juke-box scandal.

The police set a trap, with the reporter under orders from the newspaper receiving two payments totaling $230. The publicist was then arrested and indicted. "This required courageous cooperation on the part of Newsday," said the district attorney.

It also offers an interesting contrast to what the television networks did not do in most cases when outside interests tampered with their employes.

Best Dressed Women

I suppose that most folks wonder how the twelve best dressed women in the world are selected. Each year such a list appears and some are very happy but there must be many broken hearts as well as emptied purses. Being curious about such matters myself, particularly as I think that I was once described as one of the worst dressed men, I got hold of a ballot.

It was an exciting excursion into female affairs, for only women could organize so elaborate an institution. The entire enterprise is conducted by the New York Couture Group of which the charming Eleanor Lambert is the Press Director and probably the whole works. It appears that more than 2,000 "qualified observers of contemporary fashion" vote for a dozen of the best dressed women.

The New York Couture Group, Inc., consists of 37 dressmakers and designers who make some of the clothes that some of the women wear. The women look expensive to me but then I know nothing about women's clothes except that they often cover the female body inadequately and vary so widely that no mere man can draw too much of a conclusion about them. It must be a gay competition for these girls to see which ones come out on top.

The list of those "cited by fashion authorities as women of distinguished taste" is very long and contains many names not only unknown to me but surely to most folks. There are some very young ones on the list and some very, very old ones. Far be it from me to suggest that any of them are not beautifully gowned but it would be hard to judge. My eye falls on one from Edinburgh and another from London and there are some from every large city in the United States. Altogether this list contains 152 names which is a lot to choose from.

I am indeed fortunate for two or three of the women are among my great favorites and I should vote for them for anything from president of a P.T.A. to Vice President of the United States.

As to what they wear, I really could not say. I can describe their faces, the beauty of their eyes, the glory of their hair—but not the color which is interchangeable. I can repeat the brilliance of their conversation but clothes, I am sure, are little more than a covering for bodies worn by unnecessary exercise and excessive dieting to get into the contraptions in which they move about with difficulty.

I once accused a dress designer of belonging to a craft that professionally hated women because it put them into such ridiculous clothing. He denied the allegation and looked at me with contempt.

And yet, as one goes back into the history of clothing, there have been periods when man was the peacock and women clothed themselves with a degree of sanity. The French Revolution put an end to men wearing ostrich feathers and fanciful colored doublets and hose. They moved into sober black and let their trousers fall long and they got rid of silver buckles and lace cuffs.

The girls took over and have for a few centuries really gone wild in design, fabric and color until now one might really say that the dressmakers control the lives of women. There is, however, a democracy in this country. It does not take long for the department stores to show the exclusive designs to the hourly wage workers and in a little longer time, the dresses find their way to the outlet shops and everybody—but everybody—is wearing them. Exclusiveness is not for this era just as aristocracy has died nearly everywhere and most titles have been made illegitimate by revolution.

Indeed so democratic is this age that a Queen appears on a list with former models, something that could not have happened either in the 18th or 19th centuries. In fact, it would be fascinating to make a sociological study, to say nothing of a psychological analysis, of this list of 152 ladies and women—using a 19th century distinction—to find whether the most gorgeously clothed woman is, indeed, the most beautiful. And what does it really matter if it is or is not so? A woman is beautiful in the eyes of the beholder even if she wears hardly anything, as Brigitte Bardot has established.

Possible Relaxation Of "Cold War" Considered Italy's Big Problem

By Drew Pearson

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is on a 20-day tour of Europe and Asia to interview the leaders of the 11 countries President Eisenhower will visit, and to report on what they will talk to Ike about. Here, from Rome, is the first of Pearson's dispatches.

ROME—At a long desk facing row after row of nearly empty seats in the Italian Chamber of Deputies sat a small, thin figure of a man. He was Antonio Segni, Prime Minister of Italy, and he sat alone.

Opposite him in the vast amphitheatre of Italian Democracy sat a sprinkling of Christian Democrats who support Segni but, as I watched the debate, not many were present to do so.

On the right facing him were empty seats of Monarchists, Fascists, and the Liberals with only one deputy present. But on the left, the seats reserved for Communists and Socialists were almost full as their speakers criticized winter "relief payments" for the unemployed in Italy.

The Prime Minister of Italy sat there patiently. His thin face, eagle nose, and a collar too big for his neck gave him an almost bird-like appearance. He listened, said nothing. Behind him was a great bronze mural depicting the forces of Garibaldi which first brought democracy to Italy meeting the forces of King Victor Emmanuel in the first unification of Italian states in 1861. That democracy had been stopped dead by Mussolini when the present Prime Minister was a young leader in Catholic Action. His political career had been suspended in midair during Fascism; now he and other believers in democracy were working to make sure that the catastrophe of Fascism—or Communism — didn't come to Italy again.

That is why Segni sat so patiently listening to the Socialist-Communist debate. This was democracy at work in the new Italy and this was the man President Eisenhower will meet first on his historic tour of Europe and Asia.

Italy's Problem

Eventually Segni left the chamber debate to step outside and talk with me regarding the problems of Italy and the United States, some of which he'll discuss with President Eisenhower. He was guarded in his comments but, a few days earlier, he and Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis had agreed their chief problem was relaxation—and they didn't refer to relaxation on the beaches of the Riviera. They referred to the growing, gnawing fear on the part of European leaders that President Eisenhower is going to ask them to reverse the policy which the United States sold them, but now wants to unsell them—the relaxation of the "cold war" with Russia.

For something more than 10 years the United States has pounded home the idea that Communism would ruin the world, that the Italian Communist Party must be defeated, that Europe must contribute arms to the NATO alliance to combat the Communist military threat. Now, suddenly, the leaders who bought this policy see the United States unselling it.

Segni, according to some of his friends, had wanted to discuss this with Eisenhower when he arrived in Washington just a few hours after Khrushchev departed last September. But Ike was then suffering a cold and was so anxious to depart for George Allen's Palm Springs ranch that Premier Segni felt sorry for him. Nothing very vital was discussed then.

But when Ike arrives in Rome later this week, certainly the all-important question of "relaxation" will be foremost on the agenda. Unless another potent force in the Italian government intervenes. He is Giovanni Gronchi, president of Italy, who is planning a trip of his own to see Soviet Premier Khrushchev January 8. This brings to the fore a serious split within the Italian governing party about which there will be more tomorrow.

Different, Vital Italy

Meanwhile Premier Segni will be able to show President Eisenhower an Italy far different from that General Eisenhower saw when, as allied commander, he helped take Italy from the Axis armies. It's an Italy whose currency is somewhat sounder than the dollar—it has $3,000,000,000 on deposit in New York — and whose democracy is just as sound as its economy.

Segni's shrewd, tough economic policies, including land reform, are partly responsible for this.

When I asked Segni about the fact he had given up his own land in Sardinia to be divided among the landless, he replied "there was nothing unusual about it. An organization exists in Sardinia for distributing land, and it handled the matter. Already in southern Italy land has become three times more productive under new individual owners. This is a long-range program and it will become even more productive.

"Does your government have the system of interpolation on the floor of your Congress?" he asked, explaining that, as minister of the Interior, he had to answer questions in parliamentary debate.

"No," I replied.

"You are lucky," he sighed and went back to the job of sitting all alone opposite the Socialist-Communist opposition — back to the job of making democracy work in Italy.

U. S. China Policy Change Would Gain Nothing

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

In ancient Japan, the Emperor and his courtiers were sometimes called the "Above the clouds-dwellers," to denote their high remoteness from the coarse realities of every day life. The phrase nicely describes the well-meaning, intelligent and often quite highly placed persons who advocate a new American approach to Communist China at this time.

This much, at least, needs to be said as a kind of final footnote to the long bout of inquiry across the Pacific which this reporter has just completed. It needs to be said, particularly, because of the signs that some leading Democrats, such as Adlai Stevenson and even the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator William Fulbright of Arkansas, are tending towards open advocacy of a new approach to Communist China.

At the behest of Senator Fulbright for instance, a San Francisco public relations firm, Conlon Associates, was somewhat oddly assigned to review our Asian policy. The just-published Conlon Associates report does not go the whole hog. There is no call for recognition of the Chinese Communists and their admission to the United Nations, but the report proposes a policy of "exploration and negotiation" as the next best thing.

On the spot, meanwhile, the best opinion is now just about unanimous that the circumstances could not be less favorable for any change at all in the American policy towards Chinese Communists. Among the very large group of extremely able Englishmen and Americans who study Communist China from the vantage point of Hong Kong, there are many who disapproved of the American China policy when it was adopted. Among the English business leaders in Hong Kong, several even played a leading role in persuading London to recognize the Peking government without waiting for Washington.

By no means all these men who disapproved of our China policy when it was adopted have been converted to the view that it was the right policy in the first instance. Quite a number still feel that it would have been better for the United States to extend de facto recognition to Peking ten years ago. But all of these men, or at least all of them known to this reporter, believe that nothing will be gained, and a great deal will be lost, by any softening of the American attitude towards the Chinese Communists at this time.

The reason for this opinion is quite simple. The Chinese Communists have now entered a phase of really ferocious Stalinism, all their energies are now concentrated on building military-industrial power on a foundation of their peoples misery while this grim experiment wholly preoccupies them, there is nothing to be done with them. In particular, there is no way at all to negotiate with them, about the problem of the Formosa Strait or any other outstanding problem.

In their present mood, at once neurotically suspicious and paranoiacally arrogant, the masters of Peking would at once greet the smallest feeler from Washington as a sign of weakness and admission of defeat. The risks that the advocates of a new approach desire to minimize would in fact be increased. For if they thought they detected signs of weakness in the American government, Mao Tse-tung and his colleagues would only be emboldened to commit further aggressive acts.

The idea that these ruthless men, in their present mood, can be molified or tamed by "exploration and negotiation," or by American recognition, or by an invitation to join the U. N., is on a par with a scheme for taming a hungry tiger by putting a baby in the cage with it. By the same token, this kind of misguided attempt to tame or mollify the masters of Peking will not merely do positive harm in Peking. It will also convey an impression of American weakness and retreat to all the millions of Asians who now fear the Chinese Communists, including even the Indians who go on prating in the opposite sense.

While China's agony continues, in short, no new departure can usefully be made, except perhaps by Nikita S. Khrushchev. No external influence, except perhaps Soviet influence, can affect the outcome of the gigantic, cruel and awe-inspiring experiment that is now being made in China. In these circumstances, the only prudent course for the American policymakers is to be patient and watchful until the situation inside China is changed either by the experiment's failure or by its final success. Doing nothing is seldom preferable to doing something, but it is certainly preferable in this case.

AID TO EDUCATION — Federal aid to education looms as a political issue in the 1960 political campaigns. The fight will not be whether but how much aid should be given and under what circumstances.

The education issue lies in the background of United States faltering in the missile and space race with Russia, which is certain to be a prime issue to be raised by Democrats.

Some potential Democratic Presidential candidates already have struck on the education theme, the latest being Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas. Johnson proposes that the government guarantee education loans to college students.

In general terms Democrats back a program of direct aid to states based on the number of children of school age. A bill now in Congress to achieve this would cost about a billion dollars a year for four years. The grants would be used to build new schools and increase teachers' salaries.

Republicans support President Eisenhower's proposal to pay half of the interest and principal on construction bonds issued for new school buildings. This program would provide about $5 billion in new public schools over a five-year period, but the federal obligation would be stretched out 20 to 30 years.

Just recently members of the House Education and Labor Committee drafted a compromise program incorporating some features of both bills. But it is doubtful that any legislation will get through the next session of Congress.

Most of the nation's teachers and educators back the Democratic program, according to spokesmen for their national organizations. Parents of school children in substandard areas think primarily of need for better education, rather than cost. This is a sizable political bloc. Politicians are out to exploit it.

Part 1—The Bill Rose Story

The last of the exquisite baronial mansions is at 56 East 93rd Street, New York. It is a rare jewel, squeezed and shouldered by rough apartment houses. Its halls echo to the delicately slippered feet of Billy Rose. It's his. The solemn faces that look down from the walls may be signed by Goya and Gainsborough and Rembrandt, and they are cherished by the lonely story-teller who walks the halls.

Mr. Rose is called a showman. He produced Jumbo and Carmen Jones and the Aquacade and many other spectacles. He isn't really a showman. He has also been called a dollar machine, but he isn't that either. He's a picture framer. If the picture has real beauty — whether it's a painting or a show or a live girl —Billy Rose will tack a frame around it and hang it somewhere for everybody to see.

Few men have more appreciation for true beauty, and few men started with less of it. Billy Rose was born Rosenbloom on the East Side. He never knew a time when his father brought $25 a week home. The Rosenblooms were poor among the poor. They moved frequently to save a month's rent, and there were times when Billy and his two younger sisters were sent to bed without a meal.

The flat on Allen Street was full of people who commiserated with one another. There was a joy, and a loyalty, in poverty, and they shared the happiness of birth and marriage, and wept the grief of illness and death. It was and is a place of Yiddish lamentation and philosophy — most of all, of neighbors.

In their nothingness they had everything. The beach was a fire escape; Delmonico's was the icebox in the kitchen; love was a stout mother purring foreign diminutives in a child's ear; the mountains were a climb to a tarpaper roof; God was in the shadows behind a flickering menorah; wealth was a $15 cloth coat; friendship was a gruff voice saying: "So? What's new?"

The map says that it is six miles from Allen Street to East 93rd. The map lies. It is a million miles and it costs a dollar a mile. Billy Rose made it because he was born running. He made it because he had to do something better than it had ever been done. He wanted money too—he doesn't knock it—but he had to shine brightly at something.

He was still a boy when he was a champion stenographer. He worked for Bernard M. Baruch and the War Industries Board in 1918. Billy was earning $200 a week when his father was still trying to make $25. Whenever he reached a point where he thought the job could not be done better, Billy Rose quit and tried something else.

The body was small—he looked like a dissipated jockey—but the mind was big and the ambition was enormous. He wrote songs: It's Only a Paper Moon, Me and My Shadow; The Night is Young and You're So Beautiful; Without a Song. He wrote others too, and these brought in $50,000 a year in royalties.

When Mr. Rose felt that he was writing lyrics about as well as anyone in the business, he dropped it. He took his money into the night club business. He opened the Casino de Paree, the first New York theatre restaurant. He followed with the Casa Manana, and The Diamond Horseshoe. His places made money, and he kept the money because he had bigger plans and Mr. Rose does not believe in partners.

He owns one hundred percent of everything he touches. This is sometimes embarrassing because, when he places a woman on a pedestal, her feet sometimes chill on the marble until her heart grows cold. Mr. Rose married Fanny Brice, Eleanor Holm and Joyce Matthews.

Billy did more than love them. He adored them and spoiled them and, in time, the chill was on them. Miss Brice was Baby Snooks. Miss Holm was a great swimmer. Joyce Matthews had a beauty with inner lighting. The best way to lose anything is to hold it too tight.

Rotary Club Aids Library At Frostburg

Gift Is Added To Building Fund

FROSTBURG — The local Rotary Club presented Mrs. Grace Bittner, president of the Frostburg Free Library with a check last evening in the amount of $300 which was raised in the recent Pancake Day held by the club. This brings the total amount raised by the club and donated to the library to $3,023.53.

Peter Lukas, chairman of Pancake Day, presented the check to Mrs. Bittner who stated that the library now has on hand $12,285.53 in the building fund and that they own a lot and building on East Main Street on which will be the eventual site of a new public library for Frostburg.

Mrs. Bittner pointed out that there are 2,410 persons registered as users of the library which has a total of 8,789 books. During the year 1955-56, 2,938 persons used a total of 7,759 volumes from the library as compared to June 30, 1958 to October 31, 1959 when there were 24,155 users of the library and 26,564 volumes loaned out.

Rotary Anns were guests of the Rotarians at the meeting. Harry Ort was in charge of the program and presented dances from the Steckman Dance Studio, Cumberland; vocal numbers by Ann Ort and Ann Storm; and by Meg O'Shaughnessey, one of the regular entertainers at Clary Club where the event was held.

Visitors, other than Rotary Anns include Rotarian William Welsh, Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Harper, Frostburg.

Gerald Groves will be in charge of next week's program.

Cresaptown Pupils Rehearse For Minstrel

City Manager Studies Vice In Wheeling

Nine Ministers Hit Corruption

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Wheeling City Manager James C. Boyd said Monday he had been "studying" the city's vice conditions since he assumed the post two months ago.

However, Boyd declined to set forth any contemplated action on law enforcement following disclosures Sunday by at least nine Wheeling area ministers of widespread vice and corruption in the city.

One of the ministers, the Rev. J. Davis Illingworth, pastor of Vance Memorial Presbyterian Church, also disclosed he had received a telephone threat Sunday night.

The second of Illingworth's two sermons Sunday was broadcast by Wheeling radio stations. In that sermon, entitled "Heart of The City," the minister said "policemen are all tied up and the men who try to enforce the law are laughed at."

Boyd, when querried by a Wheeling News - Register reporter to "tell the people" what he planned to do, declined to give a specific answer.

"They'll find out. The only way they'll know is when it happens," he said. "I've been studying the situation ever since I took the job."

Boyd said he had conferred with Wheeling City Solicitor George G. Bailey and "I'm looking into the matter from a legalistic standpoint."

The city manager heard both of Rev. Illingworth's sermons Sunday. He attended the first service at Vance Memorial church and heard the second on radio.

Police Chief Harry Wolfe, in answer to a question on what the next step would be, declared, "I don't know."

But Wolfe did say he considered the charges by the ministers on alleged prostitution, whisky and corruption in the city "unfounded."

Policemen assigned to the so-called "center Wheeling" area where the alleged vice is said to take place met Monday and also angrily denied charges that they were involved in illegal activities.

Two city council members also spoke out.

"It would appear to me there has been a lack of understanding, bickering, jealousy and a lack of coordination of effort within the police department itself," Councilman Everett Miller said.

Councilman Harry J. Dailer said charges of payment to police are "very serious and should be dealt with accordingly." Dailer said this was a matter for the city manager and chief of police to determine.

"If that is not done, then I'm sure that council will take some action," he said.

Fire Destroys Dwelling At Romney

ROMNEY, W. Va.—A Romney woman and her children were left homeless Monday afternoon after fire destroyed their dwelling.

Eight members of the Romney Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm at the home of Mrs. Clara Orndorff, who resides near the branch station of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in Romney.

The fire fighters said the building had several layers of roofing, plus heavy siding, and kept the flames confined to the interior. Firemen said because of the heavy smoke and intense flames they were unable to enter the building, and unable to break through.

Firemen believed the blaze started from an overheated furnace and flue. Assistant Fire Chief Roy Smith estimated 60 per cent damage to the building and complete loss of furniture and clothing, valued at $500 to $600.

A neighbor, Gary Gosnell, 16, son of Mrs. Pauline Gosnell, was overcome by smoke while attempting to remove items from the building. He was admitted to Hampshire County Memorial Hospital, but was discharged at noon yesterday.

Londoun L. Thompson, owner of the residence, said the building was partly covered by insurance.

Crossbreeding Turkeys Found To Be Harmful

ROMNEY — Thomas Sanford, District 2 game manager, West Virginia Conservation Commission, reports research in the practice of cross breeding of domestic and wild turkey reveals that wild turkeys normally start egg production late in April, or early in May, while domestic turkeys begin egg production late in January.

The reproduction period of the crossbreeds lies between that of the wild and domestic turkeys and their young are ofter hatched during inclement weather.

Disease also moves in on farm-raised game turkeys, which can be supressed by antibiotics and sulfas. Upon release, the birds do not receive the drugs and either die or carry the diseases to the chicks. They also pollute the range, thereby transmitting disease to wild birds, the report states.

Sanford says, "Releasing game farm stock is unintelligent tampering with a bird that is the product of millions of years of evolution."

Wife's Value Recognized By W.Va. Supreme Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— A wife's value to her husband was recognized by the State Supreme Court Tuesday.

In a unanimous decision, the high court said the wife's services, past, present and future, should be considered in suits to recover damages for injuries.

Judge Frank Haymond wrote the opinion which sent back to the Ohio County Circuit Court for a new trial the damage suit of Robert Shreve against Nell E. Faris.

Haymond wrote "evidence in the case was sufficient to form a basis for recovery of damages" by Shreve for loss of his wife's services and the lower court erred when it refused to allow the jury to consider such evidence.

Shreve won a $1,417 judgment in the lower court proceeding but appealed to the Supreme Court for review on grounds the amount did not compensate him for the damages. His wife, Martha, was injured when the Shreve car collided with one driven by the Faris woman in Wheeling.

There were two other developments in court Tuesday.

Truman Day, Buckhannon, asked the court to review his conviction for the shotgun wounding of Buckhannon patrolman Cleston Mills Day, under a six-month jail sentence, said in the appeal certain evidence should not have been allowed during the trial.

Logan car dealer Harry Ellis asked the court to reverse a State Motor Vehicles Department order revoking his license to sell cars. Ellis maintained the department exceeded its authority in revoking his permit.

Crossbreeding Turkeys Found To Be Harmful

ROMNEY — Thomas Sanford, District 2 game manager, West Virginia Conservation Commission, reports research in the practice of cross breeding of domestic and wild turkey reveals that wild turkeys normally start egg production late in April, or early in May, while domestic turkeys begin egg production late in January.

The reproduction period of the crossbreeds lies between that of the wild and domestic turkeys and their young are ofter hatched during inclement weather.

Disease also moves in on farm-raised game turkeys, which can be supressed by antibiotics and sulfas. Upon release, the birds do not receive the drugs and either die or carry the diseases to the chicks. They also pollute the range, thereby transmitting disease to wild birds, the report states.

Sanford says, "Releasing game farm stock is unintelligent tampering with a bird that is the product of millions of years of evolution."

Wife's Value Recognized By W.Va. Supreme Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— A wife's value to her husband was recognized by the State Supreme Court Tuesday.

In a unanimous decision, the high court said the wife's services, past, present and future, should be considered in suits to recover damages for injuries.

Judge Frank Haymond wrote the opinion which sent back to the Ohio County Circuit Court for a new trial the damage suit of Robert Shreve against Nell E. Faris.

Haymond wrote "evidence in the case was sufficient to form a basis for recovery of damages" by Shreve for loss of his wife's services and the lower court erred when it refused to allow the jury to consider such evidence.

Shreve won a $1,417 judgment in the lower court proceeding but appealed to the Supreme Court for review on grounds the amount did not compensate him for the damages. His wife, Martha, was injured when the Shreve car collided with one driven by the Faris woman in Wheeling.

There were two other developments in court Tuesday.

Truman Day, Buckhannon, asked the court to review his conviction for the shotgun wounding of Buckhannon patrolman Cleston Mills. Day, under a six-month jail sentence, said in the appeal certain evidence should not have been allowed during the trial.

Logan car dealer Harry Ellis asked the court to reverse a State Motor Vehicles Department order revoking his license to sell cars. Ellis maintained the department exceeded its authority in revoking his permit.

Edgar B. Sims Is Candidate For Re-Election

W.Va. Auditor Seeks 8th Term

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Edgar B. Sims, the so - called "watchdog of the state treasury", Tuesday filed for nomination to his eighth term as West Virginia state auditor.

Sims, who will be 77 on Jan. 29, said he is seeking the job again because "I don't have anything else to do." He added that the running for auditor "has become a habit" with him.

Sims also left a letter with the secretary of state's office, addressed to Santa Claus. In the letter, Sims said he would try to be a "good boy" if Santa would send him "another certificate of election" following next fall's general election.

A native of Clarksburg, the veteran Democrat was first elected auditor in 1932. Prior to that, he had been a traveling salesman and educator, once serving as Superintendent of Schools in Wood County, from 1911-1915.

Sims has held elective state office longer than any other man in West Virginia history. He built up a reputation as "watchdog of the treasury" for frequent refusals to pay many bills or claims which he considered illegal.

Sims won his most celebrated case — against West Virginia membership in the Ohio River Compact Commission — in the State Supreme Court in 1950. But later saw the decision reversed on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Last year he created a controversy when he changed state employe pay policies — and he again won a State Supreme Court test of his action.

Court To Review Damage Award

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court agreed Monday to review a Mineral County Circuit Court jury verdict awarding Edith Flanagan $12,500 in damages as a result of an automobile accident.

The woman was injured Oct. 24, 1957 when an automobile driven by Lonnie Dayton collided in Keyser with a bus. Mrs. Flanagan was a passenger on the bus.

The appeal was made by Sheriff Walter Moot, administrator of Dayton's estate, and Osgood Bus Lines Inc.

West Virginia Highways Are Clear Of Ice

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A bright sun and near cloudless skies Tuesday removed most of the tangible evidence of West Virginia's first major snow storm. But there were indications the fair weather would not remain long.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures rose to near 50 degrees above zero in the Mountain State Tuesday removing ice and snow that accumulated from the weekend storm.

The State Road Commission reported highways throughout the state were clear after warmer temperatures melted ice and snow.

Temperatures Tuesday night were expected to drop back to slightly above freezing. Rain has been forecast for late Wednesday or early Thursday with temperatures falling slightly.

Weather observers say the same pattern may be followed this week that brought the snow of last weekend. Snow flurries have been forecast for Thursday through the weekend, but likely accumulation on the ground will not be as heavy.

A light snow Monday night left one inch of new snow on the ground at Sutton and about a quarter of an inch in Charleston and Harrisville.

Rev. Emory McGraw, pastor of Grantsville Methodist Church, spoke. His topic was "Collectors."

PSC Officials, Judge, Ordered Before Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court Monday ordered the Public Service Commission and Circuit Judge H. G. Muntzing to appear before it Jan. 13 for show cause hearings.

The PSC ordered to show why it had ruled Preston County Coke Co. was a utility. Company officials said it only generated electricity which was distributed by another firm to residents in Masontown, Reedsville and vicinity.

Judge Muntzing was ordered to show why he should not be ordered to postpone trial of a condemnation suit involving the State Road Commission.

The PSC ruled Oct. 30 the coke company was a utility and could set up new rates for sale of electricity to Preston County Light & Power Co. The review was sought by the power company.

The SRC asked the high court to stop a Dec. 10 trial before Judge Muntzing. It said the true value of property owned by L. D. Trumbo could not be determined until work along Sec. 21 between Brandywine and Sugar Grove is completed.

Grant County Youth Awarded National Honor

Wins Trip To 4-H Club Congress

PETERSBURG—Harold Stump, Landes, Grant County, has been named a national winner in the 4-H Forestry program and has been awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress, which is going on in Chicago now, according to C. P. Dorsey, State 4-H Club Leader at West Virginia University.

Stump, 17, and a freshman at West Virginia University, has been a 4-H'er for eight years. He has completed 34 projects—13 of which are in forestry.

Stump has been president of his 4-H club, Onward Upward, twice. He has also held other offices in club work.

Besides forestry, Harold has also been interested in poultry and livestock, and in 1955 he participated in the Northeastern 4-H Poultry Judging Contest in Boston.

Harold says that he has taken projects that will help him in his work at home. The forestry projects have fitted in well and he has helped improve the woodland.

Through the judging activities, he feels that he has learned more about animals and what to look for in trying to get the best.

"I've taken on more responsibility with my 4-H projects. I take care of my projects as much as I can. My parents help me when I'm away or when it's more than I can handle."

"Through 4-H club work, I've become interested in studying forestry at West Virginia University. Four-H club work has helped me in many ways, and I hope I am able to keep working with it for many years more."

W.Va. Auditor Seeks 8th Term

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Edgar B. Sims, the so - called "watchdog of the state treasury", Tuesday filed for nomination to his eighth term as West Virginia tate auditor

Sims, who will be 77 on Jan. 29, said he is seeking the job again because "I don't have anything else to do." He added that the running for auditor "has become a habit" with him.

Sims also left a letter with the secretary of state's office, addressed to Santa Claus. In the letter, Sims said he would try to be a "good boy" if Santa would send him "another certificate of election" following next fall's general election.

A native of Clarksburg, the veteran Democrat was first elected auditor in 1932. Prior to that, he had been a traveling salesman and educator, once serving as Superintendent of Schools in Wood County, from 1911-1915.

Sims has held elective state office longer than any other man in West Virginia history. He built up a reputation as "watchdog of the treasury" for frequent refusals to pay many bills or claims which he considered illegal.

Sims won his most celebrated case — against West Virginia membership in the Ohio River Compact Commission — in the State Supreme Court in 1950. But later saw the decision reversed on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Last year he created a controversy when he changed state employe pay policies — and he again won a State Supreme Court test of his action.

Court To Review Damage Award

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court agreed Monday to review a Mineral County Circuit Court jury verdict awarding Edith Flanagan $12,500 in damages as a result of an automobile accident.

The woman was injured Oct. 24, 1957 when an automobile driven by Lonnie Dayton collided in Keyser with a bus. Mrs. Flanagan was a passenger on the bus.

The appeal was made by Sheriff Walter Moot, administrator of Dayton's estate, and Osgood Bus Lines Inc.

West Virginia Highways Are Clear Of Ice

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A bright sun and near cloudless skies Tuesday removed most of the tangible evidence of West Virginia's first major snow storm. But there were indications the fair weather would not remain long.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures rose to near 50 degrees above zero in the Mountain State Tuesday removing ice and snow that accumulated from the weekend storm.

The State Road Commission reported highways throughout the state were clear after warmer temperatures melted ice and snow.

Temperatures Tuesday night were expected to drop back to slightly above freezing. Rain has been forecast for late Wednesday or early Thursday with temperatures falling slightly.

Weather observers say the same pattern may be followed this week that brought the snow of last weekend. Snow flurries have been forecast for Thursday through the weekend, but likely accumulation on the ground will not be as heavy.

A light snow Monday night left one inch of new snow on the ground at Sutton and about a quarter of an inch in Charleston and Harrisville.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court Monday ordered the Public Service Commission and Circuit Judge H. G. Muntzing to appear before it Jan. 13 for show cause hearings.

Judge Muntzing was ordered to show why he should not be ordered to postpone trial of a condemnation suit involving the State Road Commission.

The PSC ruled Oct. 30 the coke company was a utility and could set up new rates for sale of electricity to Preston County Light & Power Co. The review was sought by the power company.

The SRC asked the high court to stop a Dec. 10 trial before Judge Muntzing. It said the true value of property owned by L. D. Trumbo could not be determined until work along Sec. 21 between Brandywine and Sugar Grove is completed.

Grant County Youth Awarded National Honor

Wins Trip To 4-H Club Congress

PETERSBURG—Harold Stump, Landes, Grant County, has been named a national winner in the 4-H Forestry program and has been awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress, which is going on in Chicago now, according to C. P. Dorsey, State 4-H Club Leader at West Virginia University.

Stump, 17, and a freshman at West Virginia University, has been a 4-H'er for eight years. He has completed 34 projects—13 of which are in forestry.

Stump has been president of his 4-H club, Onward Upward, twice. He has also held other offices in club work.

Besides forestry, Harold has also been interested in poultry and livestock, and in 1955 he participated in the Northeastern 4-H Poultry Judging Contest in Boston.

Harold says that he has taken projects that will help him in his work at home. The forestry projects have fitted in well and he has helped improve the woodland.

Through the judging activities, he feels that he has learned more about animals and what to look for in trying to get the best.

"I've taken on more responsibility with my 4-H projects. I take care of my projects as much as I can. My parents help me when I'm away or when it's more than I can handle."

"Through 4-H club work, I've become interested in studying forestry at West Virginia University. Four-H club work has helped me in many ways, and I hope I am able to keep working with it for many years more."

Bosox Acquire Thomson From Chicago Cubs

Swap Al Schroll For Outfielder

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox, preparing for the return of Ted Williams, Tuesday acquired Bobby Thomson from the Chicago Cubs to share the left field job with their famed 41-year-old slugger next season.

In exchange for Thomson, who once struck the most dramatic homer in baseball history, the Red Sox gave the Cubs Al Schroll, a 26-year-old right-handed pitcher. No cash was involved.

"They say Thomson is still a pretty capable ballplayer," commented Red Sox manager Bill Jurges. "If Ted Williams comes back as we expect, Bobby will alternate in left field.

"Between them, they may hit .900," Jurges added with a smile.

Jensen Undecided

The 36-year-old Thomson may also be used for right-handed hitting outfield insurance in case Jackie Jensen decides to retire. Jensen still is trying to make up his mind whether to quit baseball or return.

Thomson moves to the American League after 14 years in the National League with the New York Giants, Milwaukee Braves, and Cubs. He achieved baseball immortality in 1951 when his ninth inning homer in the third game of a playoff against the Brooklyn Dodgers gave the Giants the pennant.

Trading Ends Dec. 15

This was the second inter-league deal completed within the past 24 hours of the current baseball winter meetings and the fourth during the free trading period which began Nov. 21 and ends Dec. 15.

On Monday night, the Baltimore Orioles sent pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes to the San Francisco Giants for outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Gordon Jones and a minor league player to be announced later. Two minor trades were made before the winter meetings began.

Campers To Play Cadets In Two Saturday Games

Allegany High School's basketball team will play its opening home game with Frederick on Saturday, Dec. 12, instead of Friday, Dec. 11, according to Coach Chester G. Payne of the Campers.

The contest here Dec. 12 will be the first high school game in Allegany's new gymnasium.

A change in the return game with Frederick also has been made. The Campers will play the Cadets in Frederick Saturday, Dec. 19 instead of Friday, Dec. 18.

Allegany kicks off the lid Wednesday, Dec. 9 at North Hagerstown High School.

Hawks Defeat WVSD, 81-69, Elks Lose To Lions, 62-36

Vance Racks Up 32, Snyder And Russell Get 23 Points Each

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley High School Blackhawks and Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont High Lions scored victories in the Potomac Valley Conference as they launched their 1959-60 basketball schedules on their home courts last night.

Ridgeley downed the West Virginia School for the Deaf to the tune of 81-69 while Piedmont won over Elk Garden High School by the score of 62-36.

Goals by Tom Benson and Larry Snyder got Ridgeley off to a 6-0 lead and the Lions from Romney never were able to overcome the Hawks who led 19-10, 43-24 and 54-47 at the quarters.

Vance Leads With 32

Hitting mostly on shots from the outside, Moses Vance, WVSD guard, romped off with high scoring honors for the evening by slamming in a total of 32 points on 14 field goals and 4-9 at the foul line.

Larry Snyder was the "big gun" for Ridgeley with 23 markers on nine fielders and 5-8 at the charity stripe. Tommy Benson garnered 17 points, Frank Lambert 16 and Tommy Gulbronson 14.

Four players fouled out—Tommy and Ronnie Gulbronson and Lambert of the Blackhawks and Victor Shade of the Lions.

Rich Russell Gets 23

Richard Russell sparked the Piedmont attack with 23 tallies as the home team outclassed the Elks who were limited to only 10 goals. Russell, 6-foot-1 forward, scored 10 goals from the field and smashed three of five free throws.

Piedmont held a 22-point lead at halftime, 35-13.

Dave Burdock, sophomore forward, collected six of the Elks' 10 goals and accounted for 14 points. Outscored from the field, 26 to 10 Elk Garden hooped 16 of 24 foul shots to Piedmont's 10 out of 22. The lineups:

All-America Team Of UPI Announced

By LEO H. PETERSEN

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Press International Tuesday presented its 1959 All-America football team, chosen by the ballots of 35[illegible] sports writers and broadcasters from all parts of the nation.

Chosen as the finest collegiate players in the land at their positions were:

Ends — Monty Stickles, Notre Dame and Bill Carpenter, Army.

Tackles—Dan Lanphear, Wisconsin and Don Floyd, Texas Christian.

Guards—Roger Davis, Syracuse and Bill Burrell, Illinois.

Center—Max Baughan, Georgia Tech.

Quarterback — Richie Lucas, Penn State.

Halfbacks—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State and Ron Burton, Northwestern.

Fullback — Charles Flowers, Mississippi.

Cannon, the spark-plug of Louisiana State's Sugar Bowl bound Tigers, is the only repeater from the 1958 UPI All-American team and this year, as last, led the balloting.

He received a total of 3,048 points, the second strongest showing in the history of UPI's All-America teams. Cannon's point total was exceeded only in 1949 when Leon Hart, Notre Dame end amassed 3,369 points. That year a total of 352 ballots was cast; this year there were 359, an all-time high. Cannon received 300 first place votes and 28 second team ballots. Eleven points are given for a first team vote, six for a second.

Nino Scores In 7th Via Technical K.O.

LONDON (UPI) —Nino Valdes scored a technical knockout over Brian London and Mike De John gained an unpopular decision over Dick Richardson of Wales Tuesday night in feature bouts on an all-heavyweight boxing program.

Valdes, the ponderous Cuban who never has lost a bout in Britain, notched his fourth triumph in this country when London was forced to quit at the end of the seventh round because of a cut over his left eye. It was London's first bout since taking a drubbing from Floyd Patterson in their title fight.

De John, of Syracuse, N.Y., was heavily booed when given a 10-round decision over Richardson.

The crowd jeered without let-up when referee Bill Williams raised De John's hand in triumph and even De John appeared a bit surprised. The crowd of 10,000, which paid $80,000, still was booing when the next bout was announced.

John De John, manager and brother of Mike, said Mike will have to cancel a scheduled bout at Dallas on New Year's Eve because of eye cuts suffered Tuesday night.

Yankees Seek Warren Spahn

Offer McDougald, Bauer For Hurler

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —Bobby Thomson, a popular National Leaguer for 14 seasons, was traded to the American League Tuesday and there were reports that Warren Spahn would follow shortly.

At the same time, it was learned the New York Yankees have made a firm offer for Spahn, regarded as baseball's outstanding left-handed pitcher. In an effort to get the 38-year-old Spahn, the Yankees reportedly offered infielder Gil McDougald and outfielder Hank Bauer.

The Braves are known to be "thinking over" the proposed deal. Both teams have scheduled a meeting for further discussion next week when the winter baseball confab shifts to Miami Beach.

Milwaukee needs a second baseman desperately and feels McDougald could fill the bill. Although he batted only .251 last season, the Braves believe the 31-year-old McDougald has a few good years left. They are not so high on 37-year-old Bauer, however, and would prefer infielders. Young Fritz Brickell may be thrown into the package.

Houston Group Buys Jacksonville Club

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —A Houston, Tex., group bought the Jacksonville Braves of the Class A South Atlantic Baseball League Tuesday for about $40,000.

Craig F. Cullinan, Jr., chairman of the Houston Sports Assn., said the purchase was "another step in our plan to operate the Continental League."

The Houston group is trying to bring Continental League baseball to the Texas City in time for the 1961 season. If successful, Jacksonville would be the triple-A farm club of Houston's Continental League in 1960.

Gomez Is Named Spokane Manager

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Pedro (Preston) Gomez, who led Havana to an International League playoff title and a Little World Series victory, Tuesday was named manager of the Spokane baseball club of the Pacific Coast League. Gomez, 37, a member of the Washington Senators in 1945-46, will replace Bobby Bragan, who has joined the coaching staff of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Breedlove Is Given Honorable Mention

Rodney Breedlove, of Cumberland, was given honorable mention on the United Press International All-America selections announced yesterday.

Breedlove, senior guard at Maryland, has been drafted by Los Angeles of the American Football League and San Francisco of the National Football League.

Alabama To Play In Liberty Bowl

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama, which has one of the flossiest bowl records, accepted a bid Tuesday to play Penn State Dec. 19 in Philadelphia's new Liberty Bowl. This completed the lineup for the big postseason football games.

The top 11 teams in the Associated Press' latest poll — Alabama is No. 11 — all have bowl commitments and the Crimson Tide becomes the fifth so honored from the Southeastern Conference.

Alabama, in its second year under Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, didn't drop a game after losing to Georgia 17-3 in the season opener. It tied Vanderbilt and Tennessee and won seven, the last five in a row.

The Crimson Tide played six games in the Rose Bowl, winning four, tieing one and losing one before the Pasadena classic linked up with the Big Ten. The Alabamans won two games in the Orange Bowl, crushing Syracuse 61-6 in 1953, and one in the Cotton but dropped their only two appearances in the Sugar Bowl.

Bosox Acquire Thomson From Chicago Cubs

Swap Al Schroll For Outfielder

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox, preparing for the return of Ted Williams, Tuesday acquired Bobby Thomson from the Chicago Cubs to share the left field job with their famed 41-year-old slugger next season.

In exchange for Thomson, who once struck the most dramatic homer in baseball history, the Red Sox gave the Cubs Al Schroll, a 26-year-old right-handed pitcher. No cash was involved.

"They say Thomson is still a pretty capable ballplayer," commented Red Sox manager Bill Jurges. "If Ted Williams comes back as we expect, Bobby will alternate in left field.

"Between them, they may hit .900," Jurges added with a smile.

Jensen Undecided

The 36-year-old Thomson may also be used for right-handed hitting outfield insurance in case Jackie Jensen decides to retire. Jensen still is trying to make up his mind whether to quit baseball or return.

Thomson moves to the American League after 14 years in the National League with the New York Giants, Milwaukee Braves, and Cubs. He achieved baseball immortality in 1951 when his ninth inning homer in the third game of a playoff against the Brooklyn Dodgers gave the Giants the pennant.

Trading Ends Dec. 15

This was the second inter-league deal completed within the past 24 hours of the current baseball winter meetings and the fourth during the free trading period which began Nov. 21 and ends Dec. 15.

On Monday night, the Baltimore Orioles sent pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes to the San Francisco Giants for outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Gordon Jones and a minor league player to be announced later. Two minor trades were made before the winter meetings began.

Houston Group Buys Jacksonville Club

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —A Houston, Tex., group bought the Jacksonville Braves of the Class A South Atlantic Baseball League Tuesday for about $40,000.

Craig F. Cullinan, Jr., chairman of the Houston Sports Assn., said the purchase was "another step in our plan to operate the Continental League."

The Houston group is trying to bring Continental League baseball to the Texas City in time for the 1961 season. If successful, Jacksonville would be the triple-A farm club of Houston's Continental League in 1960.

Gomez Is Named Spokane Manager

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Pedro (Preston) Gomez, who led Havana to an International League playoff title and a Little World Series victory, Tuesday was named manager of the Spokane baseball club of the Pacific Coast League. Gomez, 37, a member of the Washington Senators in 1945-46, will replace Bobby Bragan, who has joined the coaching staff of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Campers To Play Cadets In Two Saturday Games

Allegany High School's basketball team will play its opening home game with Frederick on Saturday, Dec. 12, instead of Friday, Dec. 11, according to Coach Chester G. Payne of the Campers.

The contest here Dec. 12 will be the first high school game in Allegany's new gymnasium.

A change in the return game with Frederick also has been made. The Campers will play the Cadets in Frederick Saturday, Dec. 19 instead of Friday, Dec. 18.

Allegany kicks off the lid Wednesday, Dec. 9 at North Hagerstown High School.

Offer McDougald, Bauer For Hurler

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —Bobby Thomson, a popular National Leaguer for 14 seasons, was traded to the American League Tuesday and there were reports that Warren Spahn would follow shortly.

At the same time, it was learned the New York Yankees have made a firm offer for Spahn, regarded as baseball's outstanding left - handed pitcher. In an effort to get the 38-year-old Spahn, the Yankees reportedly offered infielder Gil McDougald and outfielder Hank Bauer.

The Braves are known to be "thinking over" the proposed deal. Both teams have scheduled a meeting for further discussion next week when the winter baseball confab shifts to Miami Beach.

Milwaukee needs a second baseman desperately and feels McDougald could fill the bill. Although he batted only .251 last season, the Braves believe the 31-year-old McDougald has a few good years left. They are not so high on 37-year-old Bauer, however, and would prefer infielders. Young Fritz Brickell may be thrown into the package.

Hawks Defeat WVSD, 81-69, Elks Lose To Lions, 62-36

Vance Racks Up 32, Snyder And Russell Get 23 Points Each

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley High School Blackhawks and Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont High Lions scored victories in the Potomac Valley Conference as they launched their 1959-60 basketball schedules on their home courts last night.

Ridgeley downed the West Virginia School for the Deaf to the tune of 81-69 while Piedmont won over Elk Garden High School by the score of 62-36.

Goals by Tom Benson and Larry Snyder got Ridgeley off to a 6-0 lead and the Lions from Romney never were able to overcome the Hawks who led 19-10, 43-24 and 54-47 at the quarters.

Vance Leads With 32

Hitting mostly on shots from the outside, Moses Vance, WVSD guard, romped off with high scoring honors for the evening by slamming in a total of 32 points on 14 field goals and 4-9 at the foul line.

Larry Snyder was the "big gun" for Ridgeley with 23 markers on nine fielders and 5-8 at the charity stripe. Tommy Benson garnered 17 points, Frank Lambert 16 and Tommy Gulbronson 14.

Four players fouled out—Tommy and Ronnie Gulbronson and Lambert of the Blackhawks and Victor Shade of the Lions.

Rich Russell Gets 23

Richard Russell sparked the Piedmont attack with 23 tallies as the home team outclassed the Elks who were limited to only 10 goals. Russell, 6-foot-1 forward, scored 10 goals from the field and smashed three of five free throws.

Piedmont held a 22-point lead at halftime, 35-13.

Dave Burdock, sophomore forward, collected six of the Elks' 10 goals and accounted for 14 points. Outscored from the field, 26 to 10, Elk Garden hooped 16 of 24 foul shots to Piedmont's 10 out of 22. The lineups:

Joe Brown To Defend Lightweight Title Eighth Time

Charnley Is Foe Tonight At Houston

World Champion Is 12-5 Favorite Over Britisher

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—World lightweight champion Joe Brown was a 12-to-5 favorite Tuesday to retain his title in his eighth defense Wednesday even though his foe Dave Charnley, is the type the titleholder has found hardest to lick.

Charnley, the British Empire champion, is a southpaw, and Brown in his 103 pro bouts, has had his toughest battles against left handers But he was confident that he would finish the British boilermaker in five rounds or less in the nationally televised brawl expected to draw about 6,500 fans and produce $45,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum.

Stopped Five Of Seven

Brown has knocked out five of the seven foes against whom he has risked the world 135-pound crown and the toughest scrap of all was against southpaw Kenny Lane, from Muskegon, Mich., who was in command until Brown rallied in the final five rounds to win a decision.

Charnley fights from the same unorthodox stance, but he boasts a more solid punch than Lane, evidence by his record of 20 knockouts in his 30 pro wins. Charnley too may have an edge in speed since he is 24 years old compared to 33 for the champion.

But experience will be on Brown's side since Charnley has had only 39 pro bouts, and Brown has a punch too. He has scored 35 knockouts in winning 75 bouts.

Brown's title defenses, since he won the crown from Wallace "Bud" Smith Aug. 24, 1956, have been knockout victories over Smith in 11 rounds, Ralph Dupas in eight and Rosi, in nine. In his other defenses he decisioned Lane and Johnny Busso in 15 rounds.

Knocked Out Toweel

Brown has lost only once in his last 24 bouts, a 10-round decision to Busso in a non-title match. Charnley was beaten twice in his last 10 fights, by 10-round decisions to Carlos Ortiz and Guy Garcia in London. But since then he knocked out Willie Toweel in 10 rounds to win the empire championship.

Duvall Named Coach Of Year

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Harold S. (Deacon) Duvall, who has coached Fairmont State College to three unbeaten football seasons in eight years, including two in the past three, was named Tuesday as West Virginia college coach of the year.

Members of the West Virginia University coaching staff are not eligible for the honor.

He will be honored along with other outstanding individuals and teams of state sports at the 15th annual Victory Awards Dinner of the State Sports Writers Assn. in Charleston next Monday.

Fairmont won eight straight games in 1959 to capture the West Virginia Conference championship.

Salem Cagers Play Bobcats At Frostburg

Clem Clower's Club Foe in Home Opener

Salem College's basketball team, coached by Clem Clower, is scheduled to invade Frostburg tonight to do battle with Frostburg State Teachers College in the latter's first home game of the 1959-60 campaign.

Frostburg will be playing its second game of the season with an opponent from the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, having dropped a 96-88 decision to Wheeling College Monday night in Wheeling.

The Seventh Day Baptists who won five and lost 17 games last year, will be making their season debut tonight.

Clem Clower, formerly of Petersburg High School in Grant county, is athletic director, publicity director, baseball coach and assistant football coach in addition to being the Tigers cage mentor.

Frostburg will be striving to break an 18-game losing streak tonight. The Bobcats dropped the last game of the 1957-58 season, finished up with 0-16 in 1958-59 and lost the first game of the current campaign.

The game is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock.

Frostburg State hosts Shepherd College's Rams in a Friday night game in the Mountain City.

Metro Replaces Hack At Denver

DENVER (UPI)—Charlie Metro, manager of Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League for the last three years, was hired Tuesday to manage the Denver Bears of the American Association.

Metro, 41, replaces Stan Hack as field manager of the Denver team in the triple-A baseball league. Hack was fired at the end of the 1959 season, after Denver finished eighth in the 10-team league.

Denver has a working agreement with the Detroit Tigers next season, and is scheduled to play in the new Continental League in 1961.

Fairmont Named WVIAC Champions

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Fairmont is the West Virginia College Conference 1959 football champion.

It became official Tuesday when a conference eligibility committee listed as unfounded reports the Falcons had used an ineligible player in chalking up an 8-0 record.

Executive Secretary George Springer said the championship trophy, withheld from Fairmont last week while the committee checked on the complaint, would be forwarded to the school.

Billy Cannon, LSU Back, Captures Heisman Award

Given Total 519 First Place Votes; Lucas Runner-Up

BILLY CANNON

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's hard-running halfback with a flair for climactic performances, Tuesday was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player of the year.

The trophy committee announced that the 6-foot-1, 210-pound all-purpose star was picked by a substantial margin over his closest rivals—quarterbacks Richie Lucas of Penn State and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

Cannon was the No. 1 choice in each of the five sections of the country from which 935 qualified electors voted.

He will receive the award at a reception and dinner to be held Dec. 9 at the Downtown Athletic Club. The ceremonies will be nationally broadcast (Mutual Radio, 10:05-10:30 p.m. EST.)

Cannon's exploits as runner, passer, kicker, pass-receiver and secondary defender earned him 519 first-place votes compared with 97 for Lucas and 26 for Meredith.

A native of Philadelphia, Miss., Cannon is a track star who has run the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds and tossed the 16-pound shot more than 53 feet. He is a predentistry major, married and father of three daughters.

Here's the list of top 10 in the Heisman poll, with total points based on a 3-2-1 basis for the first three spots:

1. Cannon 1,929; 2. Lucas 613; 3. Meredith 286; 4. Bill Burell, Illinois, 196; 5. Charle Flowers, Mississippi, 193; 6. Dean Look, Michigan State, 176; 7. Dale Hackbeat, Wisconsin, 134; Dwight Nichols, Iowa State, 126; 9. Monte Stickles, Notre Dame, 126; 10. Ron Burton, Northwestern, 122.

Pitt Names Carver Athletic Director

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh Tuesday named Frank Carver its athletic director. He succeeds Tom Hamilton who resigned to become commissioner of Athletic Assn. of Western Universities.

Carver has been acting athletic director since Hamilton resigned last August. He formerly was graduate manager of athletics and also served at one time as director of sports publicity. He graduated from Pitt in 1931.

Olmedo Signs Pro Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Amateur tennis champion Alex Olmedo formally turned professional Tuesday for a guarantee in excess of $35,000 for one year.

The long-anticipated signing was announced by promoter Jack Kramer with the 23-year-old Peruvian net star standing by.

The "in excess of $35,000" guarantee came from Olmedo's attorney. Kramer added that his new pro rookie should earn around $50,000. And if he was unusually successful in his freshman tour with the pros it could amount to $80,000 or more.

Joe Brown To Defend Lightweight Title Eighth Time

Charnley Is Foe Tonight At Houston

World Champion Is 12-5 Favorite Over Britisher

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—World lightweight champion Joe Brown was a 12-to-5 favorite Tuesday to retain his title in his eighth defense Wednesday even though his foe Dave Charnley, is the type the titleholder has found hardest to lick.

Charnley, the British Empire champion, is a southpaw, and Brown in his 103 pro bouts, has had his toughest battles against left handers But he was confident that he would finish the British boilermaker in five rounds or less in the nationally televised brawl expected to draw about 6,500 fans and produce $45,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum.

Stopped Five Of Seven

Brown has knocked out five of the seven foes against whom he has risked the world 135-pound crown and the toughest scrap of all was against southpaw Kenny Lane, from Muskegon, Mich., who was in command until Brown rallied in the final five rounds to win a decision.

Charnley fights from the same unorthodox stance, but he boasts a more solid punch than Lane, evidence by his record of 20 knockouts in his 30 pro wins. Charnley too may have an edge in speed since he is 24 years old compared to 33 for the champion.

But experience will be on Brown's side since Charnley has had only 39 pro bouts, and Brown has a punch too. He has scored 35 knockouts in winning 75 bouts.

Brown's title defenses, since he won the crown from Wallace "Bud" Smith Aug. 24, 1956, have been knockout victories over Smith in 11 rounds, Ralph Dupas in eight and Rosi, in nine. In his other defenses he decisioned Lane and Johnny Busso in 15 rounds.

Knocked Out Toweel

Brown has lost only once in his last 24 bouts, a 10-round decision to Busso in a non-title match. Charnley was beaten twice in his last 10 fights, by 10-round decisions to Carlos Ortiz and Guy Garcia in London. But since then he knocked out Willie Toweel in 10 rounds to win the empire championship.

Salem Cagers Play Bobcats At Frostburg

Clem Clower's Club Foe In Home Opener

Salem College's basketball team, coached by Clem Clower, is scheduled to invade Frostburg tonight to do battle with Frostburg State Teachers College in the latter's first home game of the 1959-60 campaign.

Frostburg will be playing its second game of the season with an opponent from the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, having dropped a 96-88 decision to Wheeling College Monday night in Wheeling.

The Seventh Day Baptists who won five and lost 17 games last year, will be making their season debut tonight.

Clem Clower, formerly of Petersburg High School in Grant county, is athletic director, publicity director, baseball coach and assistant football coach in addition to being the Tigers cage mentor.

Frostburg will be striving to break an 18-game losing streak tonight. The Bobcats dropped the last game of the 1957-58 season, finished up with 0-16 in 1958-59 and lost the first game of the current campaign.

The game is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock.

Frostburg State hosts Shepherd College's Rams in a Friday night game in the Mountain City.

Metro Replaces Hack At Denver

DENVER (UPI)—Charlie Metro, manager of Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League for the last three years, was hired Tuesday to manage the Denver Bears of the American Association.

Metro, 41, replaces Stan Hack as field manager of the Denver team in the triple-A baseball league. Hack was fired at the end of the 1959 season, after Denver finished eighth in the 10-team league.

Denver has a working agreement with the Detroit Tigers next season, and is scheduled to play in the new Continental League in 1961.

Fairmont Named WVIAC Champions

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Fairmont is the West Virginia College Conference 1959 football champion.

It became official Tuesday when a conference eligibility committee listed as unfounded reports the Falcons had used an ineligible player in chalking up an 8-0 record.

Executive Secretary George Springer said the championship trophy, withheld from Fairmont last week while the committee checked on the complaint, would be forwarded to the school.

Fairmont was the conference's only unbeaten football team.

Given Total 519 First Place Votes; Lucas Runner-Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's hard-running halfback with a flair for climactic performances, Tuesday was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player of the year.

The trophy committee announced that the 6-foot-1, 210-pound all-purpose star was picked by a substantial margin over his closest rivals—quarterbacks Richie Lucas of Penn State and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

Cannon was the No. 1 choice in each of the five sections of the country from which 935 qualified electors voted.

He will receive the award at a reception and dinner to be held Dec. 9 at the Downtown Athletic Club. The ceremonies will be nationally broadcast (Mutual Radio, 10:05-10:30 p.m. EST.)

Cannon's exploits as runner, passer, kicker, pass-receiver and secondary defender earned him 519 first-place votes compared with 97 for Lucas and 26 for Meredith.

A native of Philadelphia, Miss., Cannon is a track star who has run the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds and tossed the 16-pound shot more than 53 feet. He is a predentistry major, married and father of three daughters.

Here's the list of top 10 in the Heisman poll, with total points based on a 3-2-1 basis for the first three spots:

1. Cannon 1,929; 2. Lucas 613; 3. Meredith 286; 4. Bill Burell, Illinois, 196; 5. Charle Flowers, Mississippi, 193; 6. Dean Look, Michigan State, 176; 7. Dale Hackbeat, Wisconsin, 134; Dwight Nichols, Iowa State, 126; 9. Monte Stickles, Notre Dame, 126; 10. Ron Burton, Northwestern, 122.

Olmedo Signs Pro Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Amateur tennis champion Alex Olmedo formally turned professional Tuesday for a guarantee in excess of $35,000 for one year.

The long-anticipated signing was announced by promoter Jack Kramer with the 23-year-old Peruvian net star standing by.

The "in excess of $35,000" guarantee came from Olmedo's attorney. Kramer added that his new pro rookie should earn around $50,000. And if he was unusually successful in his freshman tour with the pros it could amount to $80,000 or more.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — There'll be no big reception in Memphis for the home boy's return from the Army when Elvis Presley comes back from Germany in April. Elvis has asked that he be treated like anyother returning GI.

His first appearance as an actor will be on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV show. After Presley completes "GI Blues" for Hal Wallis he'll make two pictures for 20th Century-Fox, and then three more for Wallis.

According to Elvis' mentor, the amazing Col. Parker, Vernon Presley, Elvis' father, has no intention of marrying that comely German girl whom rumor says was about to become Mrs. Presley Sr.

The first date Mijanou Bardot, Brigitte's sister, had since she arrived here was with Charlie Chaplin Jr. They had luncheon together and she practiced her English on him. Al Zugsmith, producer of "Teacher vs. Sexpot," Mijanou's first American movie, says she is a very quiet, well-behaved girl, and she studies English in her spare moments. She's determined, he says, to learn to speak it well.

Al also told me that Jackie Coogan has been engaged as dialogue director for "Teacher vs Sexpot," and will play the role of an oil millionaire who picks out the teachers according to electronics.

Sounds like the last gasp in modern progress.

The most important American picture that could be released in Russia now is "On The Beach" and I say this for more reasons than that it is an opening "wedge" for Hollywood produced films outside the "cultural exchange" plan. "On the Beach" was a direct negotiation between Stanley Kramer and the USSR officials.

But far more important, the theme of the story starring Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner and Fred Astaire is the frightful fruit of atomic warfare—death. We are all aware that any future war will be the end of civilization but the point cannot be hammered home too much or too often. I feel the showing of "On the Beach" can do more against the cold (or hot) war in Russia than a dozen meetings of diplomats.

Elizabeth Taylor has had many sicknesses but the double pneumonia attack which landed her in Harkness Pavillion Hospital was far more dangerous than any illness she has ever had.

Dr. Rex Kennamer, of Beverly Hills, who was sent for when she became so sick, said Liz should have been in the hospital five days earlier, but she fought it. Her temperature at one time was over 104. However, when he left, Elizabeth was much better and recuperating.

The cold New York weather is very rough on our sunny Californians.

Here and there: Fred MacMurray's 19-year-old daughter, Susan,

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I have four boys who are always getting bumped, bruised or hurt. I'm thankful nothing serious has happened to them but anyone who has raised boys will tell you that one is always bandaged or healing.

My mother-in-law enjoys making trouble for me in small ways. Whenever my husband mentions one of the boys had a fall or cut himself she says "Where was their mother when it happened?" Then he looks at me and says, "I never thought of that."

Now you know, Ann Landers, no mother can police her kids 24 hours a day. I do my best, but when my mother-in-law gets through with me you'd think I was the poorest mother in the world. How can I defend myself?

—RESENTFUL

DEAR RESENTFUL: You don't need to defend yourself so don't bother.

Ask your husband to keep his lip zipped about what happens on the home front. It isn't necessary that he brief his mother on all the small casualties.

When she notices a bruise or a bandage and asks where you were when it happened, simply say "Drunk in a saloon — as usual." This should defang her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My boy friend is separated from his wife — but not divorced. His children are teen-agers. He sees me about four nights a week and then spends weekends with his family. He moves right in with a suitcase.

I told him last week to either live with them or leave them alone. His answer set me to thinking.

He said "I can ALWAYS get another girl friend but I'll never be able to replace my children." I told him not to fool himself, that one day his kids will marry and he'll be a lonesome man.

Please don't get the idea that I want him to marry me. I don't. I'm self-supporting and am interested only in companionship. Should I insist he choose between his family and me? — MEG

DEAR MEG: He's already made his choice. Furthermore, he's told you to like it or lump it.

Whether you realize it or not, you're going with a married man. I'll bet you a dollar to an old Landon button that if you told him you were through being his weekday sweetie he'd go back to his family on a full-time basis which is where he belongs.

DEAR ANN: I'm going to be married in January and I need a common sense opinion.

My mother has a lovely singing voice and has been the soloist at many weddings. She would like to sing at my wedding and I have no objections, but something tells me that it isn't proper. Another complication is that she would have to sing from the balcony and not be able to sit with the family.

May I have your advice on whether or not it's proper?

—BERKELY BRIDE

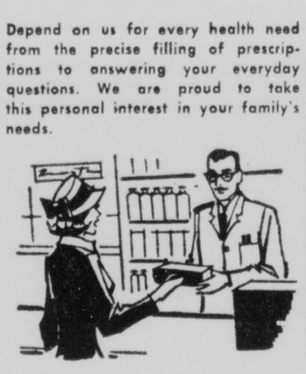

DEAR B. B.: Your mother can sing at a wedding any old time but the pleasure of sitting beside her husband and witnessing your marriage will come only once.

Hire someone to sing from the balcony, and suggest that your mother attend the wedding in a non-professional capacity.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

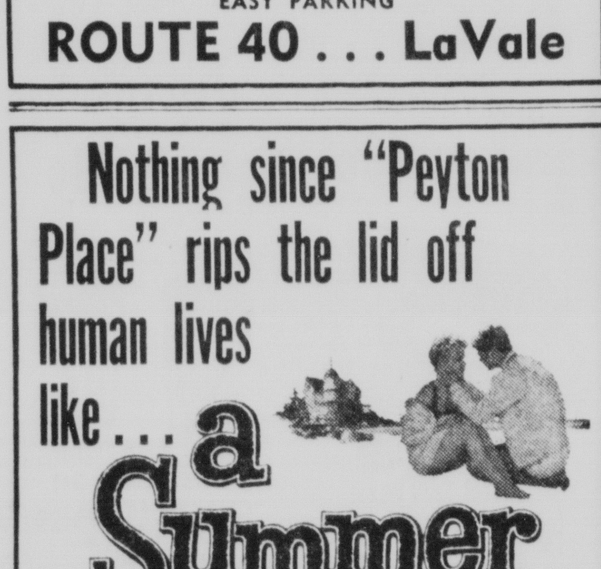

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I have four boys who are always getting bumped, bruised or hurt. I'm thankful nothing serious has happened to them but anyone who has raised boys will tell you that one is always bandaged or healing.

My mother-in-law enjoys making trouble for me in small ways. Whenever my husband mentions one of the boys had a fall or cut himself she says "Where was their mother when it happened?" Then he looks at me and says, "I never thought of that."

Now you know, Ann Landers, no mother can police her kids 24 hours a day. I do my best, but when my mother-in-law gets through with me you'd think I was the poorest mother in the world. How can I defend myself?

—RESENTFUL

DEAR RESENTFUL: You don't need to defend yourself so don't bother.

Ask your husband to keep his lip zipped about what happens on the home front. It isn't necessary that he brief his mother on all the small casualties.

When she notices a bruise or a bandage and asks where you were when it happened, simply say "Drunk in a saloon — as usual." This should defang her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My boy friend is separated from his wife — but not divorced. His children are teen-agers. He sees me about four nights a week and then spends weekends with his family. He moves right in with a suitcase.

I told him last week to either live with them or leave them alone. His answer set me to thinking.

He said "I can ALWAYS get another girl friend but I'll never be able to replace my children." I told him not to fool himself, that one day his kids will marry and he'll be a lonesome man.

Please don't get the idea that I want him to marry me. I don't. I'm self-supporting and am interested only in companionship. Should I insist he choose between his family and me? — MEG

DEAR MEG: He's already made his choice. Furthermore, he's told you to like it or lump it.

Whether you realize it or not, you're going with a married man. I'll bet you a dollar to an old Landon button that if you told him you were through being his weekday sweetie he'd go back to his family on a full-time basis which is where he belongs.

DEAR ANN: I'm going to be married in January and I need a common sense opinion.

My mother has a lovely singing voice and has been the soloist at many weddings. She would like to sing at my wedding and I have no objections, but something tells me that it isn't proper. Another complication is that she would have to sing from the balcony and not be able to sit with the family.

May I have your advice on whether or not it's proper?

—BERKELY BRIDE

DEAR B. B.: Your mother can sing at a wedding any old time but the pleasure of sitting beside her husband and witnessing your marriage will come only once.

Hire someone to sing from the balcony, and suggest that your mother attend the wedding in a non-professional capacity.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

To fulfill your responsibilities as a leader or club officer, you must be able to stand up and talk well!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Tips To Prevent Stage Fright

Attacks of stage fright are not confined to speakers and actors. The same sensations of fear and desperation grip many people when they meet strangers, apply for a job, or have an important dinner party scheduled.

If you've been elected to an office in your club or appointed head of a committee, you'll do your job better and enjoy it more if you conquer your stage fright. The poise you acquire in so doing will be a great asset to your social life, no matter where you live or on what scale.

At the outset, remember this: A little nervousness is both natural and good. It puts you on your toes mentally, animates your face and increases the force of your voice. Your goal should not be to overcome entirely the feeling of excitement that seems to grow inside you as the moment approaches for you to face your audience. Only the fear that paralyzes you is the kind that you should learn to tame and control.

1. Start with a sincere, deep-down desire to overcome your fear and lack of confidence. Unless you really want to develop self-confidence on the speaker's platform, you'll never succeed in developing the poise you do want.

2. Before you arise to face your group or audience, know what you are going to talk about. Know it so well that you'll never forget it. Instead of memorizing words and sentences, memorize only facts and ideas; then a lapse of memory is something you need not fear.

3. Pretend that you are completely at ease, even if your knees are shaking. It's a fact that if people think you are poised, you will really begin to feel confident, and confidence is the source of poise.

4. Remember that your audience wants you to succeed. People are not expecting or looking forward to your failure. They'll be rooting for you all the way!

Mt. Savage Woman Asks Road Repair

A request was received Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for repairs to a roadway and bridge in the Mt. Savage area.

The letter of request was signed by Mrs. Mike Lynch, but the road name was not listed. The matter was referred to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

Party Planned

December 17 was selected as the date for the meeting and Christmas party of the St. Mary's Parents Club, at the meeting conducted by Mrs. George Huly. Jingles will be exchanged and the fifth grade mothers will be in charge. Mr. Huly was named chairman for the children's Christmas party.

Prayer was offered by Rev. James Hobbs. Reports were given and refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Robert Burkey, James Stevens, Thomas Minke and Harry Smith.

Drivers Named

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The State Motor Vehicles Department Tuesday made public a list of 232 West Virginia motorists whose driver's licenses were suspended or revoked in October for drunk driving. The list, containing names and addresses of those penalized, was the first to be released for publication by the department.

$3,500 Is Sought From Blast Damage

The E. J. Albrecht Company, the contractor for flood control work along Wills Creek here, is being sued for $3,500 by Stella B. Hardman, 310 Piedmont Avenue, who claims her property at 418-420 North Mechanic Street, was damaged as a result of blasting by the firm.

The suit was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Clarence Lippel. The plaintiff claims that blasting operations in the rear of the Mechanic Street property between June 1957 and October 1958 caused damages to the double brick dwelling.

She claims the dwelling sank and cracked and that the roof and walls were damaged as well as window panes broken.

Underwood Silent On Vice Reports In Wheeling Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Neither the governor nor the head of the West Virginia State Police had any comment Tuesday on charges state troopers were turning their backs on alleged crime and vice in the Northern Panhandle area.

The Rev. Donald Spurlock of Wesley Methodist Church asked in a Sunday sermon "Why do State Police not come into Wheeling and make arrests for law breaking in the city?"

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, asked if he planned any action in connection with the controversy alleging vice operations in Wheeling, declined comment.

State Police Supt. Hazen H. Fair declined direct comment on the minister's question. He said only that "I will be glad to talk with anyone concerning any problem they may wish to discuss."

Rev. Spurlock's sermon was one of several delivered in Wheeling area churches Sunday designed to call attention to what the ministers alleged as vice operations in the city.

Both Spurlock and the Rev. J. Davis Illingworth, pastor of Vance Memorial Presbyterian Church, said they would cooperate with officials and present information available to them to a grand jury.

Ohio County Intermediate Judge David A. McKee indicated he had no intention of calling a special grand jury session. "Why should there be?" he asked in reply to a query. "It seems to me it is entirely a matter of police regulation at this point."

City Seeks Cost Estimates On Scales

Estimates of the cost of repairing or replacing the City Scales are being secured, according to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

He said city officials want to get all the facts before any final decision is made on the continuing or abandoning the operation. The scales were closed down recently after a state inspection.

The Mayor and Council on Monday deferred action on an ordinance which would put the city out of the weighing business but would require truckers to provide weigh slips from state-inspected scales for all city deliveries.

Civic Affairs Unit To Meet Dec. 10

Francis A. Kenney, chairman, will preside at the session when plans will be discussed for the committee's participation in the Chamber's annual meeting in January.

The committee met Monday in the Chamber offices to plan the year's program.

Sebo, Penn Coach, Fired Officially

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Steve Sebo, re-hired as Pennsylvania football coach three years ago while a three-time loser, was fired officially Tuesday after winning the Ivy League championship six days ago.

The university announced the appointment of John Stiegman, head coach of football at Rutgers, as the new Penn coach and said that Sebo's contract, which expires next Feb. 1, will not be renewed.

Robertson Gets 45 In Cincy Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Oscar Robertson, twice an All-America basketball star, was the big show again Tuesday night for Cincinnati in a soft-touch victory over Indiana State 107-62.

Starting his final season as a collegian, Robertson sank 45 points, led both teams picking up rebounds with 23 and had 10 assists.

It pushed his record as a college player to 2,007. He needs 581 more to break the all-time national mark.

Two Men Appointed To Fill County Jobs

Two men received six-month probationary appointments from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

John W. Cooper, this city, was given a job as an orderly at Sylvan Retreat. John A. Hughes, Westernport, was named a laundryman at the County Infirmary. Both were selected from eligible lists submitted by the Civil Service Board.

The commissioners also placed Howard W. McCarty on permanent status as an orderly at Sylvan Retreat. He had concluded his six-month probationary period.

Forest Fire Losses Decline In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The number of forest fires reported in West Virginia for the first five months of the current fiscal year is about 50 per cent below the corresponding period last year.

Assistant State Forester Asher Kelly said Tuesday that so far this year 374 have burned 5,573 acres of West Virginia timberland for a loss estimated at $27,865. During the same period last year, 695 fires destroyed 16,225 acres of timber valued at $81,000.

Kelly attributed the drop to "favorable" weather since September. And he said a long-range forecast through December, the third month of the fall forest fire season, shows there will be an above average rainfall.

As a result, the conservation commission has reduced its force of 65 observers and patrolmen by about half, enabling it to accumulate more money to fight fires next spring.

Kelly said the commission had anticipated a much more damaging fire season as a result of the summer drought but the picture changed after Hurricane Gracie struck toward the end of September.

He said that since then, the state has had more frequent rainfalls, if not more total precipitation than last year.

Keyser Area Woman Hurt In Crash Here

City police said a Keyser area woman was injured yesterday morning when two pickup trucks collided at the intersection of Greene and Lee streets about 11 o'clock.

Officer Carl Stouffer said Cox was proceeding west on Greene Street and ran into the front of another pickup truck being driven south on Lee Street by Ronald G. Knipple, 32, of Valley Road. Neither driver was hurt.

Refreshments will be served following the business meeting.

The reunion committee of the Class of 1955 of Allegany High School reports that only 85 of 236 questionnaires have been returned by former class members.

Persons making reservations after Saturday will not receive a booklet. The reunion will be in the form of a semi-formal dance and prizes will be awarded at intermission.

To fulfill your responsibilities as a leader or club officer, you must be able to stand up and talk well!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Tips To Prevent Stage Fright

Attacks of stage fright are not confined to speakers and actors. The same sensations of fear and desperation grip many people when they meet strangers, apply for a job, or have an important dinner party scheduled.

If you've been elected to an office in your club or appointed head of a committee, you'll do your job better and enjoy it more if you conquer your stage fright. The poise you acquire in so doing will be a great asset to your social life, no matter where you live or on what scale.

At the outset, remember this: A little nervousness is both natural and good. It puts you on your toes mentally, animates your face and increases the force of your voice. Your goal should not be to overcome entirely the feeling of excitement that seems to grow inside you as the moment approaches for you to face your audience. Only the fear that paralyzes you is the kind that you should learn to tame and control.

1. Start with a sincere, deep-down desire to overcome your fear and lack of confidence. Unless you really want to develop self-confidence on the speaker's platform, you'll never succeed in developing the poise you do want.

2. Before you arise to face your group or audience, know what you are going to talk about. Know it so well that you'll never forget it. Instead of memorizing words and sentences, memorize only facts and ideas; then a lapse of memory is something you need not fear.

3. Pretend that you are completely at ease, even if your knees are shaking. It's a fact that if people think you are poised, you will really begin to feel confident, and confidence is the source of poise.

4. Remember that your audience wants you to succeed. People are not expecting or looking forward to your failure. They'll be rooting for you all the way!

Mt. Savage Woman Asks Road Repair

The letter of request was signed by Mrs. Mike Lynch, but the road name was not listed. The matter was referred to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

Party Planned

December 17 was selected as the date for the meeting and Christmas party of the St. Mary's Parents Club, at the meeting conducted by Mrs. George Huly. Jingles will be exchanged and the fifth grade mothers will be in charge. Mr. Huly was named chairman for the children's Christmas party.

Prayer was offered by Rev. James Hobbs. Reports were given and refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Robert Burkey, James Stevens, Thomas Minke and Harry Smith.

Drivers Named

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The State Motor Vehicles Department Tuesday made public a list of 232 West Virginia motorists whose driver's licenses were suspended or revoked in October for drunk driving. The list, containing names and addresses of those penalized, was the first to be released for publication by the department.

$3,500 Is Sought From Blast Damage

The E. J. Albrecht Company, the contractor for flood control work along Wills Creek here, is being sued for $3,500 by Stella B. Hardman, 310 Piedmont Avenue, who claims her property at 418-420 North Mechanic Street, was damaged as a result of blasting by the firm.

The suit was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Clarence Lippel. The plaintiff claims that blasting operations in the rear of the Mechanic Street property between June 1957 and October 1958 caused damages to the double brick dwelling.

She claims the dwelling sank and cracked and that the roof and walls were damaged as well as window panes broken.

Underwood Silent On Vice Reports In Wheeling Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Neither the governor nor the head of the West Virginia State Police had any comment Tuesday on charges state troopers were turning their backs on alleged crime and vice in the Northern Panhandle area.

The Rev. Donald Spurlock of Wesley Methodist Church asked in a Sunday sermon "Why do State Police not come into Wheeling and make arrests for law breaking in the city?"

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, asked if he planned any action in connection with the controversy alleging vice operations in Wheeling, declined comment.

State Police Supt. Hazen H. Fair declined direct comment on the minister's question. He said only that "I will be glad to talk with anyone concerning any problem they may wish to discuss."

Rev. Spurlock's sermon was one of several delivered in Wheeling area churches Sunday designed to call attention to what the ministers alleged as vice operations in the city.

Both Spurlock and the Rev. J. Davis Illingworth, pastor of Vance Memorial Presbyterian Church, said they would cooperate with officials and present information available to them to a grand jury.

Ohio County Intermediate Judge David A. McKee indicated he had no intention of calling a special grand jury session. "Why should there be?" he asked in reply to a query. "It seems to me it is entirely a matter of police regulation at this point."

City Seeks Cost Estimates On Scales

Estimates of the cost of repairing or replacing the City Scales are being secured, according to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

He said city officials want to get all the facts before any final decision is made on the continuing or abandoning the operation. The scales were closed down recently after a state inspection.

The Mayor and Council on Monday deferred action on an ordinance which would put the city out of the weighing business but would require truckers to provide weigh slips from state-inspected scales for all city deliveries.

Civic Affairs Unit To Meet Dec. 10

Francis A. Kenney, chairman, will preside at the session when plans will be discussed for the committee's participation in the Chamber's annual meeting in January.

Sebo, Penn Coach, Fired Officially

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Steve Sebo, re-hired as Pennsylvania football coach three years ago while a three-time loser, was fired officially Tuesday after winning the Ivy League championship six days ago.

The university announced the appointment of John Stiegman, head coach of football at Rutgers, as the new Penn coach and said that Sebo's contract, which expires next Feb. 1, will not be renewed.

Robertson Gets 45 In Cincy Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Oscar Robertson, twice an All-America basketball star, was the big show again Tuesday night for Cincinnati in a soft-touch victory over Indiana State 107-62.

Starting his final season as a collegian, Robertson sank 45 points, led both teams picking up rebounds with 23 and had 10 assists.

Two Men Appointed To Fill County Jobs

Two men received six-month probationary appointments from the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

John W. Cooper, this city, was given a job as an orderly at Sylvan Retreat. John A. Hughes, Westernport, was named a laundryman at the County Infirmary. Both were selected from eligible lists submitted by the Civil Service Board.

The commissioners also placed Howard W. McCarty on permanent status as an orderly at Sylvan Retreat. He had concluded his six-month probationary period.

Forest Fire Losses Decline In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The number of forest fires reported in West Virginia for the first five months of the current fiscal year is about 50 per cent below the corresponding period last year.

Assistant State Forester Asher Kelly said Tuesday that so far this year 374 have burned 5,573 acres of West Virginia timberland for a loss estimated at $27,865. During the same period last year, 695 fires destroyed 16,225 acres of timber valued at $81,000.

Kelly attributed the drop to "favorable" weather since September. And he said a long-range forecast through December, the third month of the fall forest fire season, shows there will be an above average rainfall.

As a result, the conservation commission has reduced its force of 65 observers and patrolmen by about half, enabling it to accumulate more money to fight fires next spring.

Kelly said the commission had anticipated a much more damaging fire season as a result of the summer drought but the picture changed after Hurricane Gracie struck toward the end of September.

He said that since then, the state has had more frequent rainfalls, if not more total precipitation than last year.

Keyser Area Woman Hurt In Crash Here

City police said a Keyser area woman was injured yesterday morning when two pickup trucks collided at the intersection of Greene and Lee streets about 11 o'clock.

Bernie Cox, wife of George D. Cox, 62, of RD 2, Keyser, operator of one of the trucks, complained of injuries to her right arm and head, said police.

Cox was charged with going through a red light and posted $25 bond pending a police court hearing Friday at 9 a. m.

Officer Carl Stouffer said Cox was proceeding west on Greene Street and ran into the front of another pickup truck being driven south on Lee Street by Ronald G. Knipple, 32, of Valley Road. Neither driver was hurt.

National Head To Visit Engineers

The Grand Worthy Chief of the Grand Council of Universal Craftsmen Council of Engineers will make his first official visit to Cumberland Council 53 on Friday.

James Rutledge, worthy chief of the local council, urges all members of the council to attend Friday's meeting at 7:30 p. m. in the Junior Order Hall, Polk Street.

In addition to the visit of Grand Worthy Chief Elmer W. Billinger of Chicago, the Friday session will find several candidates to be admitted to membership in the local council.

Refreshments will be served following the business meeting.

Reunion Committee Seeks Questionnaires

The reunion committee of the Class of 1955 of Allegany High School reports that only 85 of 236 questionnaires have been returned by former class members.

Questionnaires should be returned to Mrs. Nancy Paxton McGettigan, 13 Macy Drive, so plans can be made for the completion of the booklet which will be distributed at the reunion January 2 at Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Persons making reservations after Saturday will not receive a booklet. The reunion will be in the form of a semi-formal dance and prizes will be awarded at intermission.

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of welterweights, Charlie Scott of Philadelphia and Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret, were signed Tuesday to meet in the 10-round fight feature at Madison Square Garden Dec. 18. It will be nationally televised (NBC).

WIFE PRESERVERS

Stiff paint brushes can be soaked in hot vinegar to clean them and make them pliable again.

If you have trouble inserting a pin into stiff fabric, stick the pin in a bar of soap to coat it and make it slip in easily.

Market Continues Climb; Steels, Chemicals Strong

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market capitalized on a fast and early climb that handed industrials their 10th straight session of higher prices.

The advance, which restored some $2,300,000,000 to market valuations, also put the see-sawing rail section on higher ground for the third consecutive day.

This raised hopes that the tug of war which has seen the industrials and railroads pulling in opposite directions for some weeks now, may have been resolved in favor of the bulls.

Volume expanded to 3,990,000 shares from 3,670,000 shares Monday, and was the most since 4,160,000 shares changed hands Oct. 27.

The profit-taking that turned earlier gains into loses in many instances threw Ampex for a 6½-point loss. Texas Instruments fell 3¾. Litton 3½ and Zenith 2. International Business Machines countered with a gain of 6 to 442 and Motorola with a gain of 2¼ to 163½.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Jack of ♠.

A delicate bit of cooperation by the defenders was combined with a neat unblocking maneuver by East in today's hand to sink a three no trump contract that the forces of nature had virtually wrapped up and sealed for delivery.

West opened the jack of spades and East saw at once that the suit was blocked for the defense. True enough, if West had led from a seven card holding the suit could be established by the play of the ace and queen, but East considered it more likely that declarer held at least K x x, in which case South would duck the second lead of that suit, forever eliminating spades as a contending force. South must be induced to take his king of spades at once; so East played the queen of spades, hoping to be able to discard the ace as the diamonds were played. It is true that South could have foiled this diabolical defense scheme by refusing the trick, but to do so would be an admission that he had seen an adversary's hand.

Upon taking the spade, declarer saw that there was nothing to it but to drive out the ace of diamonds and pray that the adverse spades were divided four in each hand.

West refused the king of diamonds as partner had hoped he would, but took the second lead. East's moment had arrived, and he triumphantly disposed of the ace of spades, permitting West to run five tricks in the suit and chalk up a two trick set.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain future prices were irregular Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the closing bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ½; corn unchanged to up ¼; oats up ⅜ to ¾; rye unchanged to off 1 and soybeans up ½ to 1⅜.

Nearby wheat deliveries were steady. Tenders against December wheat were liberal. Spraeders bought December and sold March and May. Warmer and dry weather was predicted for the southwest winter wheat area. Deferred contracts were firm.

The corn trade remained light following an open flurry of activity. Hedge selling preceded large buying by commercial and export interests. Northwest traders bought March. Prices were generally firm. Receipts were moderate.

Oats advanced to strong levels in the nearby contracts. Shipping houses led the buying. Export subsidies were granted on 500,000 bushels of oats.

Rye prices were irregularly lower. Some liquidation was noted, and the market followed the Winnipeg lead of lower prices.

Soybeans recovered from an early decline and closed strong. Commission house trade was mixed. An early selloff was influenced by weak meal prices. The local office of the CCC sold 137,000 bushels of soybeans Monday.

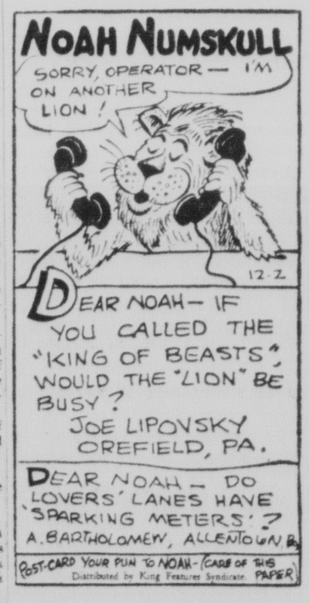

Exporters reported small purchases of corn by the United Kingdom, Poland and India. Japan bought soybeans.

Help Fight Malaria

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The U.S. Technical Cooperation Mission has allotted the Indian government $11,800,000 in rupees to fight malaria, government officials announced. The grant will be used to buy 17,000 tons of D.D.T. for this year's spraying requirements. Total U.S. aid for malaria eradication now stands at 61-million-dollars.

Market Continues Climb; Steels, Chemicals Strong

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market capitalized on a fast and early climb that handed industrials their 10th straight session of higher prices.

The advance, which restored some $2,300,000,000 to market valuations, also put the see-sawing rail section on higher ground for the third consecutive day.

This raised hopes that the tug of war which has seen the industrials and railroads pulling in opposite directions for some weeks now, may have been resolved in favor of the bulls.

The electronics, which together with steels, autos and chemicals took part in the market's early burst of strength, petered out in subsequent trades on profit-taking.

Volume expanded to 3,990,000 shares from 3,670,000 shares Monday, and was the most since 4,160,000 shares changed hands Oct. 27.

The profit-taking that turned earlier gains into loses in many instances threw Ampex for a 6½-point loss. Texas Instruments fell 3¾. Litton 3½ and Zenith 2. International Business Machines countered with a gain of 6 to 442 and Motorola with a gain of 2¼ to 163½.

A delicate bit of cooperation by the defenders was combined with a neat unblocking maneuver by East in today's hand to sink a three no trump contract that the forces of nature had virtually wrapped up and sealed for delivery.

West opened the jack of spades and East saw at once that the suit was blocked for the defense. True enough, if West had led from a seven card holding the suit could be established by the play of the ace and queen, but East considered it more likely that declarer held at least K x x, in which case South would duck the second lead of that suit, forever eliminating spades as a contending force. South must be induced to take his king of spades at once; so East played the queen of spades, hoping to be able to discard the ace as the diamonds were played. It is true that South could have foiled this diabolical defense scheme by refusing the trick, but to do so would be an admission that he had seen an adversary's hand.

Upon taking the spade, declarer saw that there was nothing to it but to drive out the ace of diamonds and pray that the adverse spades were divided four in each hand.

West refused the king of diamonds as partner had hoped he would, but took the second lead. East's moment had arrived, and he triumphantly disposed of the ace of spades, permitting West to run five tricks in the suit and chalk up a two trick set.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain future prices were irregular Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Much of the trading consisted of spreading transactions between December and deferred contracts and liquidation of December.

At the closing bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ½; corn unchanged to up ¼; oats up ⅜ to ¾; rye unchanged to off 1 and soybeans up ½ to 1⅜.

Nearby wheat deliveries were steady. Tenders against December wheat were liberal. Spraeders bought December and sold March and May. Warmer and dry weather was predicted for the southwest winter wheat area. Deferred contracts were firm.

The corn trade remained light following an open flurry of activity. Hedge selling preceded large buying by commercial and export interests. Northwest traders bought March. Prices were generally firm. Receipts were moderate.

Oats advanced to strong levels in the nearby contracts. Shipping houses led the buying. Export subsidies were granted on 500,000 bushels of oats.

Rye prices were irregularly lower. Some liquidation was noted, and the market followed the Winnipeg lead of lower prices.

Soybeans recovered from an early decline and closed strong. Commission house trade was mixed. An early selloff was influenced by weak meal prices. The local office of the CCC sold 137,000 bushels of soybeans Monday.

Exporters reported small purchases of corn by the United Kingdom, Poland and India. Japan bought soybeans.

County Sheriff Will No Longer Accept Fines

Required To Pay Trial Magistrates

Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein announced yesterday that, effective immediately, he and his deputies will no longer accept any fines, collateral or bonds for persons being held prisoners in the Allegany County Jail.

The sheriff said this new policy is being instituted as a result of a decision last Saturday in which Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt entered a judgment against Deputy Sheriff George Harris for $202.20.

This action was brought by James Wolmouth, a representative of a Baltimore bonding company which has been operating in Cumberland. Mr. Wolmouth testified that on September 19, 1958, he posted an "appearance bond" with Deputy Sheriff Harris for Joseph Powell, who gave a Pontiac, Mich., adress following his arrest on a motor vehicle charge by State Police.

On September 25, Powell was tried before Magistrate J. Milton Dick and was fined $202.70 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. The "appearance bond" envelope was turned over by Deputy Harris to William E. Bishop, then deputy clerk in Trial Magistrates Court, who accepted it and forwarded it to the State Department of Motor Vehicles in Baltimore.

Mr. Wolmouth contended that the money was posted as an "appearance bond" and was not to be used for payment of the man's fines.

This decision has been appealed to Circuit Court.

Sheriff Haberlein said this practice of acceptance of fines, collateral or bonds has been in effect for a number of years. He said it has proved beneficial for State Police as well as the prisoners, who thereby have been able to gain their freedom sooner.

Henceforth, only the trial magistrates will accept fines, collateral or bonds for persons being held in the County Jail, the Sheriff said. He anticipates that State Police will be calling upon the trial magistrates at all hours of the night, he said.

Sheriff Haberlein added that prisoners will remain in the County Jail until the proper release signed by the magistrate has been received by himself or one of his deputies.

He explained that this new system is necessary to protect himself and his deputies because doubt has been expressed about the legality of the system that has been followed.

Little Judy Kim Schoenadel watches with interest as her daddy, George J. Schoenadel of LaVale, receives his card after giving blood yesterday to the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Handing him his card is Mrs. Harry Beneman, local chapter official.

Civil Defense Day To Be Observed December 7

Air raid sirens will be sounded in Allegany County as well as the rest of Maryland, Washington and Virginia on December 7 as a part of the nation's observance of Civil Defense Day, according to William G. Barger, county CD director.

Mr. Barger said the sirens will sound the alert signal — a five-minute steady siren tone—at 1:25 p. m. Public participation is limited to a request that all persons tune in to a special five-minute radio program at the same time the sirens are sounded.

Traffic and other activities will be carried on normally during the time of the siren sounding. The other CD defense signals will not be sounded during the demonstration.

In advance of Civil Defense Day literature is being distributed throughout the state. Special emphasis is being placed on distribution of a new publication "The Family Fallout Shelter" booklet. This 32-page free publication gives complete details for construction of low cost shelters in the home.

Mr. Barger said residents of Allegany County can obtain the shelter booklet by calling PA 4-2200 or by writing to 715 LaVale Terrace, LaVale.

In addition to the shelter booklet, other pieces of CD literature are available free of charge.

State AFL-CIO Will Re-elect Top Officers

By FRANK E. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. F. Strong, Silver Spring, Md., was nominated without opposition Tuesday for another year as president of the Maryland-District of Columbia AFL-CIO.

C. B. Windsor, Glen Burnie, was nominated for another term as first vice president, and J. C. Turner, Washington for another year as second vice president.

Two nominations for secretary-treasurer—Charles A. Della, Anne Arundel County, for re-election, and James E. Patterson, Baltimore County—will make the only contest in Wednesday's election.

Local Men Named

The delegates, meeting in the second annual convention since their AFL-CIO merger in 1957, also nominated 20 regional vice presidents. These, none of whom have opposition, include:

Central Maryland (Hagerstown area)—Benita Canfield and Michael Minor.

Western Maryland (Cumberland area)—Joseph Burke and Charles O. Buskirk.

Cites Problems

Goldstein said the main questions before the American public are how to preserve the enormous values in private agreements privately arrived at in a predominantly private enterprise, and how to demand that a dispute stay on the road to settlement to prevent any dire emergency.

Sickles emphasized the importance of labor continually working to acquaint legislators with its problems.

Joseph Lewis, secretary of the union label and service trades department, urged the delegates to look for union-made labels in buying and to patronize unionized shops.

"It's better to walk a few blocks to look for union labels or a union shop than to walk several miles looking for a new job," he said.

Lewis was critical of what he described as the run-away shops moving to a new area where labor is largely unorganized.

130 Persons Give Blood To Red Cross

Two Donors Join Three-Gallon Club

One hundred thirty pints of blood were collected here yesterday afternoon when the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown, Pa., visited the home of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The quota was 135 pints.

Mrs. John Lohnas, blood recruitment chairman for the Cumberland visit sponsored by the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross, said 22 persons were rejected, mainly because of colds.

A total of 195 persons were scheduled to give blood and 65 kept their appointments. Eighty-seven "walk-ins" boosted the number of pints to 130. Mrs. Lohnas, said 37 persons gave for the first time and 24 pints of blood were replaced.

Two persons became members of the Three-Gallon Club. They are Mrs. Maude Poorbaugh of Wellersburg, Pa., and Raymond E. Wagner, 533 Columbia Avenue.

Those who became members of the Two-Gallon Club are Paul A. Martin, 12 Boone Street; Mrs. Mary J. Best, Mt. Savage; Arthur Bopp, Bedford Road, and E. R. Riffle, Cresaptown.

Five persons joined the Gallon Club. They are Wendell E. Hanft, 150 Polk Street; James B. Hershberger, Cresaptown; James A. Hott Jr., Mt. Savage; Eleanor S. Keller, 108 Elder Street; and Earl C. Moore, Hyndman, Pa.

Physicians on duty during the afternoon were Dr. William P. James, Dr. D. B. Grove and Dr. George M. Simons.

The Bloodmobile Unit will return here Monday, January 4, and will visit Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto. Mrs. Lohnas said the unit will visit Frostburg the following day.

Water Meter Backlog Is Still High

Customers Will Not Be Penalized

Orders for water meters are pouring in faster than Water Department crews can install them but customers will not be penalized by the delay.

And the rate at which meters are being ordered indicates that the conversion from flat rate to metered service will be completed far ahead of the January 1, 1961 deadline.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light announced yesterday that 295 water meters have been ordered since August 19, when a new rate ordinance was adopted.

Accounts Reduced

Since the $30 charge for a meter installed inside a home can be saved in about two quarters under the new rate schedule which sets $21 as the minimum charge for water and sewage, the conversion program is expected to continue at about the same rate as in recent months.

Metered service is more expensive, of course, where a ground box must be installed outside the house.

Installation crews, according to Chief Clerk James Twigg, have a backlog of about 100 meters and are making the installations as fast as possible. He said orders for meters poured in so fast at one time that supplies were exhausted.

Ground Boxes Last

Mr. Twigg pointed out that inside meters are being installed first and that ground boxes, which require considerable labor, are being held up until last.

The delay will not hurt customers who have ordered meters, Mr. Twigg said, as they are being billed for minimum meter charges from the last flat rate billing.

The new rate plan provided the death sentence for flat rate users as a water conservation measure.

ROY W. YUNKER

JOHN G. LUCAS

Yunker And Lucas Given Promotions By PPG Firm

John B. White, manager of the local plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, has announced the promotion of Roy W. Yunker, Works Seven plant engineer, to the position of manager of process and development in the General Office Engineering Department, effective yesterday.

Mr. White also announced that John G. Lucas Jr., assistant plant engineer, has been promoted to plant engineer to succeed Mr. Yunker.

In his new position, Mr. Yunker will be primarily concerned with the integration of Glass Division Engineering to prepare for the continued expansion and progress of the company's Glass Division.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Yunker joined PPG in 1947 at Creighton, Pa. He was graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering, and received a master's degree in general engineering from the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Yunker was transferred to the Cumberland plant in February 1956 as assistant plant engineer, and was named plant engineer here last March.

Mr. Lucas joined PPG in 1949 as an electrical engineer at the Crystal City, Mo., plate glass plant, transferred to the General Offices in 1954 as a design engineer, and was appointed electrical engineer at the local plant in May 1956.

He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He was promoted to Works Seven assistant plant engineer in March 1959.

Hardy Countian Is Killed While Hunting Deer

Otis Dow Wilkins, 36, of near Lost City, W. Va., who was fatally wounded yesterday morning while deer hunting not far from his home, became the first hunting casualty in West Virginia, where the deer season opened Monday.

His nephew, Albert Conrad Miller, 19, who lived next door to his uncle, was charged with negligently shooting and killing a human being while hunting, authorities said. Miller was arraigned before Justice of the Peace P. W. Clark at Moorefield yesterday afternoon.

He waived preliminary hearing and was released under $1,000 bond pending action of the January term of the grand jury, according to Cpl. C. G. Hamrick of the State Police, who investigated the fatal shooting with Al Lewis, conservation officer at Wardensville.

The shooting occurred about 7:20 a. m. yesterday and Wilkins, the father of three children, died about 20 minutes later. Cpl. Hamrick said the nephew was questioned at his home later in the day.

Wilkins and his nephew, who had hunted together on previous occasions, both worked at a poultry processing plant at Broadway, Va. They worked the night shift on Monday and returned home about 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

He told authorities he thought he saw a deer at the foot of a tree farther up the hill and blasted away, not realizing that his uncle had changed his mind and decided to go hunting.

When he heard someone call out, he ran up the hill and found his wounded uncle. The nephew summoned help and the victim was carried down the hillside to his home. A physician from Bergton, Va., was summoned but the hunter was dead. Mr. Wilkins was the husband of Mrs. Arlene (Fultz) Wilkins and a son of Mrs. Benjamin Wilkins, Mathias, W. Va.

Yesterday's fatal shooting was the first reported casualty in West Virginia this hunting season and also the first hunting accident in Hardy County. Two other hunters in West Virginia died of natural causes since the season opened Monday.

Teachers' Pay Raises Again Before Council

Legislators Vote On Plan Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legislative committee Tuesday night hesitantly approved conservative increases in the salaries of Maryland teachers and classified employes.

Proposed by a special fiscal committee headed by Sen. William S. James (D-Harford), the plan would earmark about 7.4 million dollars for these pay raises next year, stressing increases for career employes.

It was approved by the Budget and Finance Committee of the Legislative Council, interim investigative arm of the General Assembly. This pushed it to a vote by the full council Wednesday and, if cleared there, to the General Assembly at its 30-day session in Annapolis next February.

$5 Million For Teachers

About 5 million of the total would go for teachers pay, raising state-guaranteed minimums from the present $3,200-$5,000 to $3,500-$5,300.

Spokesmen for the Maryland State Teachers Assn. had called this inadequate and pushed for approval of a $4,000-$6,000 scale, similar to the one approved by the State Senate earlier this year but scuttled by precipitious adjournment of the House of Delegates.

State employes spokesmen also criticized the James Committee recommendations involving their salaries. They had pressed for 10 per cent, across-the-board increases, roughly four times the amount approved by the James group.

Other Action

1. The full Council quickly approved a new formula to bolster the sagging unemployment insurance fund. The formula calls for increases in the amounts contributed to the fund by employers with big personnel turnover and decreases for those with fewer firings and furloughs.

2. The Budget and Finance Committee accepted a recommendation for increased benefits to welfare clients receiving care in privately-operated Maryland nursing homes. The recommendation came from the new Commission on the Problems of the Aging.

3. The Budget and Finance Committee approved a proposal to prohibit a savings and loan association from advertising that it is insured, unless it carries federal insurance or state-approved commercial insurance.

4. The Judiciary Committee of the council approved a measure to exempt religiously motivated parents from the state law requiring parents to keep children in school until they become 16. The exemption was proposed by Sen. Walter R. Dorsey (D-St. Marys) and a group of spokesmen for the Amish, a sect which withdraws its children from school at 14 for religious reasons.

Credit Union Charter Sought At Celanese

Staff and hourly employe representatives recently discussed the need for a credit union and a survey found more than 1,600 persons approving of the organization. It was endorsed by officials and department chairmen of Local 1874, TWUA, in informal discussions with management officials.

A meeting was held November 10 by Raymond E. Evans, federal credit union examiner of Baltimore. Employes were advised that interest justified application for a federal charter and an application committee was named.

Picked for the committee are Mrs. Cora L. McCoy, warp winding; James McGann, extrusion; Earl Snyder, cellulose compounds; Robert Walters, quality control; John G. Thomas, president, Local 1874; O. Thomason Forman, accounting; Walter Mchaney, preparation; James Summers, twisting; Raymond O'Rourke, cellulose compounds; and Hudson Nix, personnel.

A charter is expected to be issued about January 1, after which the charter committee will meet to designate nine employes to serve as a board of directors and three employes to be a credit committee. Officers will be named from the board of directors and the officers will designate three employes as a supervisory committee.

Boy Hurt In Crash

A 16-year-old local boy was injured when the car in which he was a passenger rammed into a parked car at 10 Pennsylvania Avenue about 9:30 p. m. yesterday.

Wilbert Barringer, 420 Louisiana Avenue, was admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment of a head injury when he struck the windshield of the car driven by his father, Charles O. Barringer, who was not hurt.

Police Officer John Powers said Mr. Barringer was driving up Pennsylvania Avenue and another car was coming in the opposite direction.

Mr. Barringer steered the car into the left rear of the parked car of Mrs. Rosemary Eirich, who was visiting with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Clara E. Eirich, 8 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Cub Pack Plans Meeting, Sale

Cub scouts of Pack 10, LaVale, will meet Friday, December 11 at LaVale Methodist Church.

Six boys will become cub scouts in brief ceremonies at the meeting. They are Thomas Morgan, Glenn Twigg, Andrew Liller, Wade Morral, Steven Loflin and Stephen Brooks.

Officials of the cub pack said a new den has been formed on Winchester Road with Mrs. Elizabeth Liller as den mother. The new group will be known as Den 8.

The group is conducting a fruit cake sale this week in the LaVale area. Orders will be taken for two, three and five-pound cakes to be delivered December 12.

Assembly Unit Backs Jobless Pay Formula

By LOUIS G. PANOS

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Legislative Council nodded quick approval Tuesday of a new formula to fatten the multi-million dollar kitty from which unemployed Maryland workers draw weekly payments.

Under the formula, advanced by the Department of Employment Security, employers with relatively big personnel turnover would contribute more to the unemployment insurance fund. Those with more stable personnel records would chip in less.

Robert B. Kimble, director of the department, said the plan — if approved by the Legislature and Gov. Tawes next year — will mean a reduction in unemployment insurance taxes for about 30,000 employers and increases for about 17,000.

"This is the most forward step that has ever been taken in the financing of unemployment insurance," Kimble told the council, between-sessions screening branch of the General Assembly.

No Dissent

The employment chief briskly laid the mathematically complicated proposal before the legislators in a prepared 15-minute delivery, then stepped back while a spokesman for the Baltimore Association of Commerce said his group also favored the plan.

Lines, Signs Will Mark Pedestrian Cross Walks Here

Plans for marking two pedestrian cross walks at intersections here were announced yesterday by Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

The crossings selected are at Union and South Centre streets and at Greene and Washington streets.

A Keyser woman was fatally injured and a Piedmont woman was badly hurt on November 19 as they were attempting to cross Greene Street near the Washington Street intersection.

Mr. Fleming said the Police Department is trying to locate signs which will be used to warn drivers they are approaching a pedestrian crossing. White lines will be used to mark the actual crossing.

Yule Decoration Fund Drive Set

Members of the Retail Merchants Association will be visiting non-member merchants, business and professional people during the next two weeks to receive donations for Christmas street decorations.

Plans for the campaign were made yesterday as association officials met in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Large red decals, which may be placed on store windows, will be given to all contributors.

The Christmas display, placed on Baltimore and parts of North Mechanic streets, officials said, benefits all downtown establishments and not just association members who must underwrite the $2,900 program.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber, said the best way of solving the problem would be for all retailers to belong to the association and share all benefits and obligations.

Woman, Spouse Awarded $7,500 In Court Here

A Boonsboro woman and her husband were awarded verdicts totalling $7,500 yesterday afternoon by an Allegany County Circuit Court jury which deliberated only about 30 minutes at the conclusion of an all-day trial.

Mrs. Sara Lucille Frey, 326 North Main Street, Boonsboro, was awarded $5,000 for injuries she alleged she sustained when the car in which she was a passenger was struck while stopped on a Hagerstown street last year. Her husband, James S. Frey, was awarded $2,500 for medical expenses incurred as a result of his wife's injuries and for loss of her services.

Stanley Hamilton, this city, was foreman of the jury of 10 men and two women which returned to the court room with its verdict shortly before 4 p. m.

Seven witnesses were heard. They included Mr. and Mrs. Frey, four medical doctors and the defendant, Earl B. Wolfinger, who lives near Tilghmantown in Washington County. The medical testimony on the extent of Mrs. Frey's injuries came from Dr. Lewis Brings, this city, and Dr. Joseph C. Crisp, Dr. Robert N. Richards and Dr. John J. Dobbie.

The two suits, seeking a total of $25,000 damages, were filed originally in Washington County Circuit Court but were moved here for trial after Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin signed the requested order.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs yesterday were Ernest V. Wachs, Hagerstown, and William L. Wilson, this city. Defense attorneys were Stuart Bushong, Hagerstown, and William H. Geppert, this city. Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presided.

Marchers Being Prompt In Returning MD Kits

Volunteers who participated in the house-to-house canvass Monday night in conjunction with the annual Muscular Dystrophy fund raising campaign are being prompt in returning their kits to city firemen.

One hundred forty-seven of the 282 kits distributed throughout Cumberland were returned by yesterday afternoon and the balance are expected to be in within the next couple of days.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter, said one of the largest amounts in the kits returned thus far was $21.56.

He is seeking volunteers to aid the Frostburg chairman in her house-to-house canvass. Interested persons of that community who would like to volunteer their services for a couple of hours may call Mrs. George Kennedy at 99 Maple Street by dialing GV 9-6044.

The volunteers may choose their hours, either during the day or at night, said Chief Parker. Twenty volunteers are needed.

Checks have been received from six chapters of the Order of Eastern Star. They include McKinley Chapter 12 and Chapter 56, of Cumberland; Mountain Chapter 105, Frostburg; Chapter 10, Lonaconing; Chapter 37, Barton, and Chapter 67, Oakland.

Canisters in business establishments will be picked up later this month, Chief Parker added.

'Mail Early For Christmas' Is Advice Of Postmasters

Commenting on the excellent response of their "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, area postmasters said yesterday that a great deal depends on the cooperation of patrons during the next 10 days if they are to reach their goal of having every Christmas gift package and card delivered before Christmas Eve.

Post Offices of the area are well prepared for the big Christmas mail load, but unless everyone steps up the mailing of Christmas cards and gift packages immediately, some may not be delivered before December 25.

The postmasters emphasized the need for special cooperation in making sure return address and the recipient's address are plainly written on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

They said they would especially appreciate the cooperation of business firms in postponing the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

The postmasters are also urging everyone to get out-of-state packages into the Post Office within the next few days and to do everything possible to mail all Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 10 and Christmas cards to nearby points by at least a week before Christmas.

County Sheriff Will No Longer Accept Fines

Required To Pay Trial Magistrates

Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein announced yesterday that, effective immediately, he and his deputies will no longer accept any fines, collateral or bonds for persons being held prisoners in the Allegany County Jail.

The sheriff said this new policy is being instituted as a result of a decision last Saturday in which Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt entered a judgment against Deputy Sheriff George Harris for $202.20.

This action was brought by James Wolmouth, a representative of a Baltimore bonding company which has been operating in Cumberland. Mr. Wolmouth testified that on September 19, 1958, he posted an "appearance bond" with Deputy Sheriff Harris for Joseph Powell, who gave a Pontiac, Mich., adress following his arrest on a motor vehicle charge by State Police.

On September 25, Powell was tried before Magistrate J. Milton Dick and was fined $202.70 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. The "appearance bond" envelope was turned over by Deputy Harris to William E. Bishop, then deputy clerk in Trial Magistrates Court, who accepted it and forwarded it to the State Department of Motor Vehicles in Baltimore.

Mr. Wolmouth contended that the money was posted as an "appearance bond" and was not to be used for payment of the man's fines.

This decision has been appealed to Circuit Court.

Sheriff Haberlein said this practice of acceptance of fines, collateral or bonds has been in effect for a number of years. He said it has proved beneficial for State Police as well as the prisoners, who thereby have been able to gain their freedom sooner.

Henceforth, only the trial magistrates will accept fines, collateral or bonds for persons being held in the County Jail, the Sheriff said. He anticipates that State Police will be calling upon the trial magistrates at all hours of the night, he said.

Sheriff Haberlein added that prisoners will remain in the County Jail until the proper release signed by the magistrate has been received by himself or one of his deputies.

He explained that this new system is necessary to protect himself and his deputies because doubt has been expressed about the legality of the system that has been followed.

Handing him his card is Mrs. Harry Beneman, local chapter official.

Civil Defense Day To Be Observed December 7

Air raid sirens will be sounded in Allegany County as well as the rest of Maryland, Washington and Virginia on December 7 as a part of the nation's observance of Civil Defense Day, according to William G. Barger, county CD director.

Mr. Barger said the sirens will sound the alert signal — a five-minute steady siren tone—at 1:25 p. m. Public participation is limited to a request that all persons tune in to a special five-minute radio program at the same time the sirens are sounded.

Traffic and other activities will be carried on normally during the time of the siren sounding. The other CD defense signals will not be sounded during the demonstration.

In advance of Civil Defense Day literature is being distributed throughout the state. Special emphasis is being placed on distribution of a new publication "The Family Fallout Shelter" booklet. This 32-page free publication gives complete details for construction of low cost shelters in the home.

Mr. Barger said residents of Allegany County can obtain the shelter booklet by calling PA 4-2200 or by writing to 715 LaVale Terrace, LaVale.

In addition to the shelter booklet, other pieces of CD literature are available free of charge.

State AFL-CIO Will Re-elect Top Officers

By FRANK E. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. F. Strong, Silver Spring, Md., was nominated without opposition Tuesday for another year as president of the Maryland-District of Columbia AFL-CIO.

C. B. Windsor, Glen Burnie, was nominated for another term as first vice president, and J. C. Turner, Washington for another year as second vice president.

Two nominations for secretary-treasurer—Charles A. Della, Anne Arundel County, for re-election, and James E. Patterson, Baltimore County—will make the only contest in Wednesday's election.

Local Men Named

The delegates, meeting in the second annual convention since their AFL-CIO merger in 1957, also nominated 20 regional vice presidents. These, none of whom have opposition, include:

Central Maryland (Hagerstown area)—Benita Canfield and Michael Minor.

Western Maryland (Cumberland area)—Joseph Burke and Charles O. Buskirk.

Cites Problems

Goldstein said the main questions before the American public are how to preserve the enormous values in private agreements privately arrived at in a predominantly private enterprise, and how to demand that a dispute stay on the road to settlement to prevent any dire emergency.

Sickles emphasized the importance of labor continually working to acquaint legislators with its problems.

Joseph Lewis, secretary of the union label and service trades department, urged the delegates to look for union-made labels in buying and to patronize unionized shops.

"It's better to walk a few blocks to look for union labels or a union shop than to walk several miles looking for a new job," he said.

Lewis was critical of what he described as the run-away shops moving to a new area where labor is largely unorganized.

130 Persons Give Blood To Red Cross

Two Donors Join Three-Gallon Club

One hundred thirty pints of blood were collected here yesterday afternoon when the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown, Pa., visited the home of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The quota was 135 pints.

Mrs. John Lohnas, blood recruitment chairman for the Cumberland visit sponsored by the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross, said 22 persons were rejected, mainly because of colds.

A total of 195 persons were scheduled to give blood and 65 kept their appointments. Eighty-seven "walk-ins" boosted the number of pints to 130. Mrs. Lohnas, said 37 persons gave for the first time and 24 pints of blood were replaced.

Two persons became members of the Three-Gallon Club. They are Mrs. Maude Poorbaugh of Wellersburg, Pa., and Raymond E. Wagner, 533 Columbia Avenue.

Those who became members of the Two-Gallon Club are Paul A. Martin, 12 Boone Street; Mrs. Mary J. Best, Mt. Savage; Arthur Bopp, Bedford Road, and E. R. Riffle, Cresaptown.

Five persons joined the Gallon Club. They are Wendell E. Hanft, 150 Polk Street; James B. Hershberger, Cresaptown; James A. Hott Jr., Mt. Savage; Eleanor S. Keller, 108 Elder Street; and Earl C. Moore, Hyndman, Pa.

Physicians on duty during the afternoon were Dr. William P. James, Dr. D. B. Grove and Dr. George M. Simons.

The Bloodmobile Unit will return here Monday, January 4, and will visit Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto. Mrs. Lohnas said the unit will visit Frostburg the following day.

Water Meter Backlog Is Still High

Customers Will Not Be Penalized

Orders for water meters are pouring in faster than Water Department crews can install them but customers will not be penalized by the delay.

And the rate at which meters are being ordered indicates that the conversion from flat rate to metered service will be completed far ahead of the January 1, 1961 deadline.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light announced yesterday that 295 water meters have been ordered since August 19, when a new rate ordinance was adopted.

Accounts Reduced

This reduces the number of flat rate accounts from 803 to 508.

Since the $30 charge for a meter installed inside a home can be saved in about two quarters under the new rate schedule which sets $21 as the minimum charge for water and sewage, the conversion program is expected to continue at about the same rate as in recent months.

Metered service is more expensive, of course, where a ground box must be installed outside the house.

Installation crews, according to Chief Clerk James Twigg, have a backlog of about 100 meters and are making the installations as fast as possible. He said orders for meters poured in so fast at one time that supplies were exhausted.

Ground Boxes Last

Mr. Twigg pointed out that inside meters are being installed first and that ground boxes, which require considerable labor, are being held up until last.

The delay will not hurt customers who have ordered meters, Mr. Twigg said, as they are being billed for minimum meter charges from the last flat rate billing.

The new rate plan provided the death sentence for flat rate users as a water conservation measure.

Credit Union Charter Sought At Celanese

Initial steps have been taken at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Company to organize an employe credit union, management officials announced yesterday.

Staff and hourly employe representatives recently discussed the need for a credit union and a survey found more than 1,600 persons approving of the organization. It was endorsed by officials and department chairmen of Local 1874, TWUA, in informal discussions with management officials.

A meeting was held November 16 by Raymond E. Evans, federal credit union examiner of Baltimore. Employes were advised that interest justified application for a federal charter and an application committee was named.

Picked for the committee are Mrs. Cora L. McCoy, warp winding; James McGann, extrusion; Earl Snyder, cellulose compounds; Robert Walters, quality control; John G. Thomas, president, Local 1874; O. Thomason Forman, accounting; Walter Mchaney, preparation; James Summers, twisting; Raymond O'Rourke, cellulose compounds; and Hudson Nix, personnel.

A charter is expected to be issued about January 1, after which the charter committee will meet to designate nine employes to serve as a board of directors and three employes to be a credit committee. Officers will be named from the board of directors and the officers will designate three employes as a supervisory committee.

Hardy Countian Is Killed While Hunting Deer

Otis Dow Wilkins, 36, of near Lost City, W. Va., who was fatally wounded yesterday morning while deer hunting not far from his home, became the first hunting casualty in West Virginia, where the deer season opened Monday.

His nephew, Albert Conrad Miller, 19, who lived next door to his uncle, was charged with negligently shooting and killing a human being while hunting, authorities said. Miller was arraigned before Justice of the Peace P. W. Clark at Moorefield yesterday afternoon.

He waived preliminary hearing and was released under $1,000 bond pending action of the January term of the grand jury, according to Cpl. C. G. Hamrick of the State Police, who investigated the fatal shooting with Al Lewis, conservation officer at Wardensville.

The shooting occurred about 7:20 a. m. yesterday and Wilkins, the father of three children, died about 20 minutes later. Cpl. Hamrick said the nephew was questioned at his home later in the day.

Wilkins and his nephew, who had hunted together on previous occasions, both worked at a poultry processing plant at Broadway, Va. They worked the night shift on Monday and returned home about 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

Wilkins told his nephew he didn't believe he would go hunting yesterday morning because his legs had been bothering him.

About 7 a. m., the nephew left his house and walked up over the hill through the woods for about a half-mile.

He told authorities he thought he saw a deer at the foot of a tree farther up the hill and blasted away, not realizing that his uncle had changed his mind and decided to go hunting.

When he heard someone call out, he ran up the hill and found his wounded uncle. The nephew summoned help and the victim was carried down the hillside to his home. A physician from Bergton, Va., was summoned but the hunter was dead. Mr. Wilkins was the husband of Mrs. Arlene (Fultz) Wilkins and a son of Mrs. Benjamin Wilkins, Mathias, W. Va.

Yesterday's fatal shooting was the first reported casualty in West Virginia this hunting season and also the first hunting accident in Hardy County. Two other hunters in West Virginia died of natural causes since the season opened Monday.

Teachers' Pay Raises Again Before Council

Legislators Vote On Plan Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legislative committee Tuesday night hesitantly approved conservative increases in the salaries of Maryland teachers and classified employes.

Proposed by a special fiscal committee headed by Sen. William S. James (D-Harford), the plan would earmark about 7.4 million dollars for these pay raises next year, stressing increases for career employes.

It was approved by the Budget and Finance Committee of the Legislative Council, interim investigative arm of the General Assembly. This pushed it to a vote by the full council Wednesday and, if cleared there, to the General Assembly at its 30-day session in Annapolis next February.

$5 Million For Teachers

About 5 million of the total would go for teachers pay, raising state-guaranteed minimums from the present $3,200-$5,000 to $3,500-$5,300.

Spokesmen for the Maryland State Teachers Assn. had called this inadequate and pushed for approval of a $4,000-$6,000 scale, similar to the one approved by the State Senate earlier this year but scuttled by precipitious adjournment of the House of Delegates.

State employes spokesmen also criticized the James Committee recommendations involving their salaries. They had pressed for 10 per cent, across-the-board increases, roughly four times the amount approved by the James group.

Other Action

The teachers and state employes pay questions highlighted a day of activity in which:

1. The full Council quickly approved a new formula to bolster the sagging unemployment insurance fund. The formula calls for increases in the amounts contributed to the fund by employers with big personnel turnover and decreases for those with fewer firings and furloughs.

2. The Budget and Finance Committee accepted a recommendation for increased benefits to welfare clients receiving care in privately-operated Maryland nursing homes. The recommendation came from the new Commission on the Problems of the Aging.

3. The Budget and Finance Committee approved a proposal to prohibit a savings and loan association from advertising that it is insured, unless it carries federal insurance or state-approved commercial insurance.

4. The Judiciary Committee of the council approved a measure to exempt religiously motivated parents from the state law requiring parents to keep children in school until they become 16. The exemption was proposed by Sen. Walter R. Dorsey (D-St. Marys) and a group of spokesmen for the Amish, a sect which withdraws its children from school at 14 for religious reasons.

Assembly Unit Backs Jobless Pay Formula

By LOUIS G. PANOS

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Legislative Council nodded quick approval Tuesday of a new formula to fatten the multi-million dollar kitty from which unemployed Maryland workers draw weekly payments.

Under the formula, advanced by the Department of Employment Security, employers with relatively big personnel turnover would contribute more to the unemployment insurance fund. Those with more stable personnel records would chip in less.

Robert B. Kimble, director of the department, said the plan — if approved by the Legislature and Gov. Tawes next year — will mean a reduction in unemployment insurance taxes for about 30,000 employers and increases for about 17,000.

"This is the most forward step that has ever been taken in the financing of unemployment insurance." Kimble told the council, between-sessions screening branch of the General Assembly.

No Dissent

The employment chief briskly laid the mathematically complicated proposal before the legislators in a prepared 15-minute delivery, then stepped back while a spokesman for the Baltimore Association of Commerce said his group also favored the plan.

'Mail Early For Christmas' Is Advice Of Postmasters

Commenting on the excellent response of their "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, area postmasters said yesterday that a great deal depends on the cooperation of patrons during the next 10 days if they are to reach their goal of having every Christmas gift package and card delivered before Christmas Eve.

Post Offices of the area are well prepared for the big Christmas mail load, but unless everyone steps up the mailing of Christmas cards and gift packages immediately, some may not be delivered before December 25.

The postmasters emphasized the need for special cooperation in making sure return address and the recipient's address are plainly written on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

They said they would especially appreciate the cooperation of business firms in postponing the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

The postmasters are also urging everyone to get out-of-state packages into the Post Office within the next few days and to do everything possible to mail all Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 10 and Christmas cards to nearby points by at least a week before Christmas.
